Candy Booth Popular Church Bazaar Spot

Culminating a year's planning and work, women of the First Methodist church have completed plans for their annual bazaar.

The affair will be held in the church Nov. 12 and 13, under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Richard Sneed.

Among the many items will be the "special," started several years ago by the group—home-made peanut brittle. Members make the candy themselves, packing it in metal containers for preservation and easy shipment when used as a gift item.

The bazaar will also feature the special apron booth, items for which have been made under the supervision of Mrs. Melville Warner, professional designer and a member of American Designers.

HUNDREDS of pounds of this peanut brittle, taffy and fudge have been made under the direction of Mrs. Wayne Stettbacher, candy committee chairman.

Mrs. Faye Ayers and Mrs. Russell McBride have headed the committee in charge of the plant booth and promise many hard-to-get plants will be available. Many have been grown in the homes from cuttings collected by the members.

Cards, Christmas wrappings and stationery sales will be in charge of Mrs. John Wilson and her committee.

Square Dance Planned

The adult choir of Townsite Community church will sponsor another square dance on Friday, Nov. 6, at 8 p.m. Roy Page will be the caller. For those who do not care to dance, there will be tables for card games.

Ham and turkey will be featured in the dinners this (Thursday) evening, the committee under the direction of Mrs. Morgan Hammer.

Mrs. Harvey Bushnell and Mrs. Ralph Scheel have been assisted by Mrs. Gordon Davis at the doll booth; Mrs. T. Sharples and Mrs. George Limp, sewing chairman; Mrs. V. B. Watkins, Mrs. R. S. Pietro and Mrs. Harold Chapel, cutting. Callers have been Mrs. J. T. Bernard, Mrs. N. W. Berry and Mrs. E. J. Conway.

The bazaar will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., these two final days.
