Huge Jack-O-Lanterns Seen in West Beverly

By VIRGINIA DETWILER

WEST BEVERLY HILLS.—Those two tremendous pumpkins seen in the E. J. Hills' yard last week were home-grown "critters", and therein lies a tale. Hill has developed a real talent for carving Jack-O-Lanterns with turnip, apple and hollyhock trim, which he distributes each Halloween to schools, hospitals and any youngsters who are in need of them. This year, his hobby found a strange way to pay off. From two of last year's discarded Jack-O-Lanterns, sprouted large, rambling vines in his back yard bearing two pumpkins, which grew to giant proportions.

On Oct. 28, the West Beverly sewing club turned in over 41 articles of hand-sewn clothing, including skirts, kimonos, blouses and pajamas, to the Birmingham needle work guild at their annual bazaar. Mrs. Ernest George, the new chairman, reports that the group is considering expanding its activities to help meet a need for clothing in cases of hardship and accident in the Birmingham area. New residents are cordially invited to attend the club's next meeting on Nov. 10 at the home of Mrs. Harold Snider, on Devonshire road.

Back from four months in Alaska on business, is Mark Cheever, of Hillcrest road. The Cheevers took the children up to Fort Elgin, Ont., for the weekend on Oct. 23, attended the Michigan game at Ann Arbor last Saturday, and flew to New York City Sunday night for a few days' business trip.

Special guests at Calla Reasonor's birthday party Oct. 25, were Miss Mrs. Hubert Ogden and their granddaughter, Sandra Ogden, of Battle Creek, who were visiting the H. C. Reasonors of Mayfair lane, for the weekend.

More than 200 people attended the first meeting of the 14-Mile road committee, held at the Birmingham Country club on Oct. 21. Object of the meeting was to form an opposition group to the plan of developing 14-Mile road into a main east-west traffic artery. Committees were appointed, and the following officers elected: president, Gerald Lundquist; vice president, John Lane; secretary, Tom Emery and treasurer, Bob Neff.

The Alec Lindsays and son David, of Kirkshire road took a few days off recently to drive across the Blue Water bridge for a last glimpse of fall color in Canada.

With pockets full of stones, fossils and petrified wood, Wendy and Robert Faddison returned last week from a five-week Western trip with their parents, the William H. Faddisons of Mayfair lane. The children plan to show the geological specimens they gathered in the Badlands, Yellowstone, Yosemite, Carlsbad caverns, Grand Canyon, Bryce and Zion national parks, to science classes at school.

Devonshire road residents tried a little something different in Halloween parties last Friday night. Young and old alike from the entire street attended the party, which began with a grand march for prizes at 7 p.m. In charge of arrangements were Mrs. George Adams, Mrs. Clayton Setzer, Mrs. R. H. Detwiler, Mrs. Clarence Faulman and Mrs. Charles McGregor. Presiding over games and refreshment tables were Ed Straith, Donald Rhoton, Charles McGregor and E. B. Detwiler. Costume judges were Mrs. Philip Taormina, Mary and Barbara Wesley and Morton Atooch. Mimi Taormina led the grand march.

Guests in the Stephen J. Manhardt's Hillcrest road home two weeks ago were Mr. and Mrs. Price Meek and their son Jimmy from Kirkwood, Mo. The Manhardts invited friends to meet their guests over cocktails on Oct. 15, after which the group attended a St. Dunstan's play and later a party given by the Dean Burnetts of Birmingham. Last Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Manhardt were on hand at the Phi Gamma Delta house in Ann Arbor, for Homecoming festivities, including luncheon, the game, dinner and a dance.

The home of Mrs. F. J. Staroba on Wentworth road, was the meeting place last week for the Beverly Hills association block hostesses. On Dec. 9, a Christmas party and meeting will be held for the group at the Beauford road home of Mrs. R. M. Hodgson.

Mrs. W. T. Beal, block hostess for Birwood road, has offered the use of her recreation room, to any seating capacity for 50, to any Beverly Hills woman's group requiring it.
