FRANKLIN—The Franklin Parents-Teachers association opens the season with a meeting at the Franklin school at 8 p.m., Oct. 12. Paul Cartow, assistant superintendent in charge of instruction in the Birmingham school district, will address the group on "Basic Instructional Programs in the Elementary Grades."

The PTA plans to bring in experts throughout the year to give the parents an insight into educational methods and the reasons why certain methods are favored over others. There will be special meetings devoted to cultural development with fresh approaches to education in music and the other arts.

This is National Fire Prevention Week and the Franklin Volunteer Fire department asks that each resident make a survey of fire hazards in his house and garage then proceed to eliminate them. Flammable liquids, paints, oily rags, defective furnaces and chimneys and defective wiring and wiring are prime sources of trouble. The department has provided informative literature for Franklin school children to make them aware of their place in fire prevention. The volunteers met last Friday night for a practice session using their new portable generator and floodlights. This equipment should greatly facilitate night operations.

The Southfield Township Republican Women's club met at noon today at the Birmingham Community House. Special feature of the session was showing of colored slides by Mrs. Anthony Daley covering her recent trip about the Mediterranean.

Dr. and Mrs. William Jahsan, who sailed on the "Maasdam" on Aug. 29 for a European vacation, have returned to their home on German Mill road. Their four took them to England, Portugal, Spain, France and Switzerland.

The Clifford Baughs were hosts at bridge and supper at their home on Crestwood drive last Friday night. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Carman Adams and Mrs. Walter Dryer and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Harrison.

Bridge and supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rosebery at their home on Wellington road this Friday will be the Charles McKinley, the Clifford Baughs and the J. Seavers.

Mrs. Frank Winchell was hostess to four guests at luncheon today at her home on Seaside drive. The affair was preliminary to an afternoon of bowling.

Welcome to Mr. and Mrs. John Bourdon and their children Diane, 11; Margaret, 9; and John, 1. Former residents of Royal Oak they are settled now in their new home on Birchway drive. Bourdon is with the Allied Music Sales company of Detroit.

Welcome, too, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert McDaniel and family, now in their new place on Helmsdale. Their children are Robert, Jr., 18; Diane, Jr., Peggy, 3; Susan, 2; and an older daughter, Mrs. Dale Klingensmith, of Berkley. McDaniel is a truck broker.

Bonnie Jean Baugh, daughter of the Clifford Baughs, nine last Saturday, celebrated with a birthday luncheon and party with her fourth grade classmates as her guests.

Mrs. Chester Hand, neighborhood chairman, announces the following as Girl Scout leaders for the coming year: Third grade Brownies, Mrs. Vernon Johnson and Mrs. Buehl Starr; fourth grade Brownies, Mrs. Thomas Dadson and Mrs. John W. Ford; fifth grade Intermediates, Mrs. Henry Weed and Mrs. Oliver Garwood; sixth grade Intermediates, Mrs. Dwight Engen, Mrs. Forrest Starrett and Mrs. John Lachner; seventh and eighth grades, Tween-Its, Mrs. Volney McIntosh and Mrs. Dudley Campbell.

Mrs. Dadson and Mrs. Wreley will be hostesses at a get-acquainted tea for the mothers of the fourth grade Brownies at the Wreley home on Crestwood drive next Tuesday afternoon.
