CHARLES MILES, manager of Windrow Farms, 5501 Coolidge, Troy township, holds Teddy Par, Ayrshire bull which was a ribbon winner at the Michigan State Fair. Raised on the Troy farm, Teddy Par's dam was a full sister of the highest priced Ayrshire dam ever raised in this country. The bull weighs close to 2,000 pounds. Windrow Farm is owned by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Edward E. Wilson.

Have Important Roles At MASA Convention

Several Birmingham area residents will have prominent roles in the convention of the Mail Advertising Service Association, Sept. 26-29, according to Donald W. Hacker, Franklin Village, general convention chairman. Rev. Theodore Wigganizer of the Second Lutheran Church will offer the official invocation at the opening day's luncheon. Frank J. McGinnis, advertising, sales promotion and training manager of Ford Motor Co., a Birmingham resident, will be chief speaker at the Sept. 26 session.

Football Future Brighter At Troy

A stronger and deeper football team will represent Troy high school this season according to Boyd Larson, athletic director. The Troy coaching staff welcomed nearly every member of last year's squad returning to practice this year and expect to win more than half of their league encounters. Defense will be the mainstay of the Troy team which will play a line averaging 180 pounds per player. The team will be led by Captain Don Pochina, a guard. A second threat to opponents will be Fred Bernard, six feet, three inch, 220 pound left half-back.

TROY WILL open its season Friday night at Detroit Lutheran and Coach Robert Nyquist has been hustling the boys through opening drills to prepare for this year's early start. Nyquist will also have an eye open for next year as he groups this year's team strong in junior yearsmen.
