THIS WANDERER OVERHEARD two Adams school boys, who until this year had always been in the same class room. Said one boy to the other, "Gee, I wish we were in the same pen again."

AN AMUSING SIDE OF RISING costs and the inflated dollar was related by Troy Township Supervisor Norman Barnard Monday at the board meeting when he sought to purchase a new calculator for the township offices. Barnard reported that the present machine was purchased in 1933 at a cost of $60. Twenty years later, the worn machine will bring $60 to $80 as a trade-in, he stated. Board members approved the purchase of a new machine. The price today? Near $700.

NO MORE CHECKING of the city's bills by commissioners, they decided Monday night. "It seems to be merely perfunctory," declared Commissioner Charles Renfrew, and his comment was endorsed by several of his colleagues. Commissioners had been asked to correct a previous week's voucher which went through in the wrong amount. Mayor Ralph A. Main attempted to explain, "It's just to call our attention to what we are spending money on. We've been doing it a long time. When we used to hold committee session before meetings, all of us used to check over the bills together. Then former Mayor Bruce Booth assigned the task to each commissioner on a rotation basis." When they discovered there was no legal requirement to look over each and every bill being paid, the commission decided to approve a payment each week as recommended by the director of finance.

After Dark Finish Ends BCC Derby

Sports fields are really progressing nowadays, with baseball under lights, football under lights, horse racing, hockey and others all being evening entertainment.

But although the day hasn't yet come for stationary lights on a golf course, members of the Birmingham Country club fashioned their own "after-dark course" Saturday for the finish of the club's Derby Day tournament.

The "horses" Mis-spent Youth, Dagmar, Iitywybad, TV Special and Good Ol' Joe were unable to complete the last lap of the course in daylight, so other trainers, jockeys and fillies hopped in their buggies to use car lights on fairways and greens to guide late runners into the stables.

IN THE WIN spot of the Derby was Sizzling Hot, in dashing colors of flame red and charcoal black. The team, consisting of Mrs. G. I. Connelly, Robert Hoover and John Lackner, had a net total of 202. Their three scores were combined, less a handicap, to gain the final total.

Tied for second place were: Mrs. W. J. Walstom, Frank Rosch and Gale Stringer on You Need a Shower; Mrs. Fred Hirtzel, Howard Juhl and Roy Laundry just Shankin' Along; Mrs. Anton Joen, Paul Horst and Tom Lowery riding Gin and Tonic; and Mrs. Edward Colby, William Pioch and Elmer Ellstrom on Let's Cool Off.

THIRD place was taken by Mrs. Webb Scheiffle, Art Laffoon and Harvey Peters on Good Ol' Joe.

Forty-five teams started the Derby at 10 a.m., under the general management of Robert and Charles Turner.

Mrs. Arthur N. Stuart, thrift, and co-chairmen of ways and means, Mrs. Manley Bailey and Mrs. Everett F. Schafer complete the list.

INVITATIONS have been sent to 82 'new' mothers, and to the faculty, including the following new teachers: Mrs. Lois Friesner, Mrs. Lucille Hutchings, Miss Grace Mack, Mrs. Alma Stanley, Mrs. Theresa Bassett and Mrs. Mary Woodworth. Miss Hilda Levine is returning to Quarton after an absence, and among the special teachers, Mrs. Gloria Edwards will teach art this year.

Mrs. W. G. Heller, president, says that although the program for the early part of the year may be curtailed by the building of the new addition, she hopes that activities for which there is a demand, such as the square dancing and dancing lessons for the children, can be resumed as soon as possible.

Glenn Sislers Celebrate 25th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Sisler of Glengary road, Bloomfield Village, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary with a dinner dance on Tuesday evening, Sept. 15, at Meadowbrook Country Club. There were 175 guests present to join in the celebration.

The club house was decorated in silver and white befitting the occasion. The head table was covered with a cloth of silver graced by a center arrangement of white pom-poms, mums, and silver smilax. Silver candelabra, flower arrangements, and silver ribbons adorned the other tables. A large tiered wedding cake occupied a smaller table, which was also covered with a silver cloth. The couple started the celebration by cutting the cake, then joining their guests at dinner. William H. Monahan of Detroit, a close friend of the family, was toastmaster for the evening.

MRS SISLER wore a floor-length gown of Italian design. The bodice of the gown was completely appliqued with lace corn-flowers studded with pearls and rhinestones and the corn-flowers cascaded in appliques onto a bouffant skirt of silk organza over two underskirts of pink silk organza and white taffeta. She wore accessories to complement the colors in the gown and a corsage of pink camelias pinned to her bag. The two daughters wore gowns of white and candy pink to complement the gown worn by their mother.

The Sislers have three children, Alice, who attended Stephens college and Northwestern university; Edward, who will enter Harvard university this fall; and Carol Anne, a student at Brookside school, Cranbrook.

MR. AND Mrs. Sisler have been residents of the Detroit area for eighteen years, coming to Birmingham three years ago. They were married Sept. 15, 1928, in Ohio. Sisler has been affiliated with the steel industry for 26 years and is now president of Northern Steel company. He is a member of Detroit Golf Club and president of Meadowbrook Country Club.
