Second Winter Season Of Dramatic Classes Opens at Will-O-Way

The second winter season of theatrical classes will open on Oct. 3, at Will-O-Way. The all-day season will start at 9 a.m.

Classes for beginners and advanced students, children and adults, will be planned to give training in all phases of the theater. There will be groups of speech, pantomime, make up, radio and television work and production techniques.

Will-O-Way, Michigan's only theater school licensed by the state department of education, has just completed its seventh summer course.

Staff members, Celia Merrill Turner and Tressa Way Merrill, will also provide special classes for experienced professional desiring brush-up courses.

MRS. EDWARD J. KOHRS

Honeymoon in Southwest Follows Kohrs-Hill Rites

The papal blessing was given at the nuptial high mass uniting in marriage Mary Jane Hill and Edward John Kohrs. The Rev. Juvenal Pfalzer officiated at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, Sept. 19, at the Shrine of the Little Flower.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Hill of Royal Oak, formerly of Westwood drive, Birmingham, are parents of the bride. Edward is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Edward F. Kohrs of New York City.

The bride was preceded down the aisle by Marilyn Kohrs, sister of the groom, maid of honor, and Dorothy Bennett and Mrs. Frank B. Swartz, Jr., bridesmaids. They wore gowns of mauve and turquoise taffeta and nylon net and carried bouquets of pale pink gladioli blossoms and pink roses.

BEST MAN was James Clune of New York City, while seating guests were Frank B. Swartz, Jr., Robert Mayer of New York, and Kenneth and Conrad Kohrs, brothers of the groom.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor length gown fashioned with a charming lace bodice, long pointed sleeves and illusion neckline. The nylon net skirt was made of two graduating tiers of lace-Tufted nylon net and seed pearls were used in the headpiece holding in place a double nylon net veil. The bridal bouquet was of stephanotis, white roses and ivy, centered with two white roses.

A CORONATION collar topped the blue nylon ballerina length dress worn by the bride's mother. Her blue velvet beaded hat and purse were accented with a spray of green orchids at her waist.

Mrs. Kohrs was dressed in a gold crepe ballerina length dress with princess neckline and black accessories. Her orchid spray was green and gold.

For traveling, the bride wore a dark blue velvet suit with beige trim and brown accessories and corsage of two white orchids. The

Residents Asked To Open Homes To Foreign Guests

Birmingham residents are being asked to provide a "touch of typical American life" for representatives of foreign countries visiting the United States.

Mrs. William J. Simpson, 1589 Derby, heads the local section of the American Overseas association, a branch of Washington's Foreign Operations division, hosts to these visitors.

She reported that the coming weekend would see 14 technical and educational experts from Berlin visiting the area, with several being entertained in Birmingham and vicinity homes.

"The guests," she explained, "are housed in nearby hotels but their visits to factories and educational centers will give them a true insight into our way of life.

"HOTELS," while they can adequately take care of our guests' needs, do not give them a message as to the country in which they are truly representative as to how the "average American lives."

Bennett W. Root, father vice president of the Birmingham PTA Council, is in charge of the program for the meeting at 8 p.m., Monday, Sept. 28, in the Little Theater at the high school.

The program will consist of a progress report on the high school PTA and the Council Safety committee, relative to the driver training program. Tentative plans for the year will be announced.

"A Day in Court," film on traffic safety will conclude the evening. There will be two delegates for each of the eleven PTAs in Birmingham school district, as well as the presidents of the various PTAs.
