

Describes Photo Assignments On News Fronts of the World

By ALICE E. MORGAN
A woman who has photographed the great and the near great, the terrible and the beautiful in 26 countries, Margaret Bourke-White related a few of her experiences for an attentive Birmingham audience Tuesday evening.

Speaking in the high school Little Theater, Miss Bourke-White related her own, to get the pictures which to her tell the story best. Miss Bourke-White related her own, to get the pictures which to her tell the story best. Miss Bourke-White related her own, to get the pictures which to her tell the story best.

SHE CONFESSED her preference for those "play it by ear" assignments, where she is entirely on her own, to get the pictures which to her tell the story best.

Name JA Banquet Committee Heads

Charles T. Fisher, Jr., president of the National Bank of Detroit, has named a committee for the annual "Future Unlimited" banquet May 15 at the Detroit Athletic Temple.

Announcement was made by L. L. "Doc" Ferguson, president of Bloomfield Hills, Chrysler Corp. president and general chairman for the banquet.

At the same time, Colbert announced the names of seven business and industry leaders who will serve with Fisher on the arrangements committee for the affair.

Colbert also announced that this year's banquet will be the biggest affair JA has ever held in Southwestern Michigan. More than 3,300 businessmen, industrialists and Junior Achievers will be invited.

This & That

As the years kept climbing up on me, there came a time when I no longer found it a lot of fun to skate like the boys. I had to get into, and crash into him... and I did it. I was so into, I crashed into, either.

To one who is acquainted with the "Every" additional competitive sports, they can understand and sympathize with Bill Phillips.

With the domestic and international confusion and terrific problems that might the White House, some ask: "Why does President Eisenhower take time off when he has so many things to find answers for?"

My own reaction to such a question is: "Why can't he find time to relax and relax from his duties is good for him, his job, and his country. He can find answers to weighty problems when they are resting and relaxing."
