Why carry the world on your shoulders? Our "Naturalaire Model" has practically no shoulder padding, and its softly constructed lines fall easily and naturally in good taste and comfort. It took two decades to perfect this classic... the results are flatteringly apparent.

Musical Evening Spent With Out-of-Town Guests

A recent barbecue at the home of the Raymond Darlings on Woodland Pass turned into an evening of music with the guests taking part. The children were first on the program.

Skip Sullivan, age four, of Cleveland brought the house down when he sang a Scottish melody in brogue. Skip's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Sullivan, and his sister Shawn, house guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hallman of Pontiac; Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Hallman of Clarkston and Richard, Tom and Gary were included among the guests.

Mrs. Darling and Mrs. Sullivan sang songs they rendered several years ago when they and Mrs. V. Benson, of Saginaw, who was not present, formed a sister trio.

The harmony of a barbershop quartet was furnished by the four gentlemen who are members of the SPESKA (International Barbershop Quartets).

HELLO AND GOODBYE

Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Dunlap and their children, Bobby and Debby, are moving to their home town, Hinsdale, Ill., about Sept. 1. They have lived in Wing Lake only a year but have made many friends who will miss them as neighbors. Mrs. Dunlap took time from her moving preparations to have morning to meet Mrs. Edward J. Danziger, who with Mr. Danziger and their children, Doug and Jeff, recently moved to Wing Lake from Hillside, N.J.

Welcoming Mrs. Danziger were Mrs. Fred Ball, Mrs. Frank Breisacher, Mrs. Charles Robinson, Mrs. Joseph Johnson, Mrs. Randall Crabb, Mrs. Dary Worman, Mrs. Albert Remington, Mrs. B. A. Akens, Jr., Mrs. William Fraser, Mrs. Charles Durham, Mrs. Elwood Engel and Mrs. Enel's mother-in-law, Mrs. Edward T. Lies of Miami, Fla.

Mrs. Warner Wolfston, of Surrey Cross returned recently from spending a fortnight at her summer home at Higgins Lake. While there, she had her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wolfston and her grandchildren, Mike, Mary Beth and Bobby Joe, of Grand Rapids with her.

John Flemming, of Foxcroft, spent the weekend of August 7 with them.

Every year Mrs. P. Addison's birthday is celebrated at a luncheon. Last week on Wednesday, Mrs. Wolfston honored her at a luncheon on her ninetieth birthday at Devon Gables, followed by cards in Mrs. Wolfston's home.

The guests included: Mrs. Addison's daughter, Mrs. Harold Furlong of Detroit; Mrs. D. A. Brown and Mrs. Henry Anderson, of route around the thumb to Mackinac. They spent several days at the Grand hotel where they met the first lady of the state Mrs. G. Mennen Williams.

On the shore of Lake Superior in the Upper Peninsula, the Roberts stayed at Paradise. They were directed to a spot where the bears come to feed.

Mr. Roberts stepped out of the car to take a picture of a family of bears eating. Fortunately, Mrs. Roberts glanced in the opposite direction and saw a large black fellow not 20 feet away. Needless to say, Roberts made a hasty retreat to the car.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Packard had as their houseguests last week, Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Keller of Minneapolis. Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Packard entertained at a barbecue.

Among the guests were Mr. Packard's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Barker. Barker is graduated in law from the University of Michigan. He will study business administration at Harvard and Mrs. Barker will attend Boston university. They left Saturday for Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen James and their son, Christopher, motored to Quebec and back to Montreal where they picked up their daughter, Carole. Carole has been studying French at the Summer session at McGill college. The James returned last weekend.

HONOR GUESTS
When Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Simpson, of Birmingham, arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Randall E. Crabb on Wing Lake road last Saturday for a chicken barbecue, they were completely surprised to find their friends Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Herrschner of Chicago were honor guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bauer of Bloomfield Village also welcomed the Herrschners, who are cousins of Mr. Crabb.

Mrs. Herrschner is well known in musical circles as president of Metropolitan Opera Guild of Chicago.

weeks with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin J. Brower.
