

Old Trail Guests Have Party for John F. Gordons

Old Trail Inn at Harbor Springs continues to be a summer haven for Birmingham families during August. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dalton of Pleasant street spent three weeks there, and Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Gates, along with his father, Dr. N. Gates, were guests for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Thompson and "Dunc" of Kenoway circle made their yearly pilgrimage to Old Trail Inn to spend a week. John Lorimer joined his wife and daughter, Marjory, for a weekend after the two had spent a week at the Inn. Mrs. Walter Appel and daughter Elaine of Dow Ridge, Orchard Lake, are also here for a week.

AMONG dinner guests recently at the Inn were the William E. Hubert family of Bates street. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mennard who motored from their summer home at Point Nipigon, Cheboygan and Mrs. C. B. Wilson of Bloomfield Hills and Walloon Lake, who entertained at luncheon for Mrs. T. A. Peabody, Mrs. Merl MacElroy and Mrs. Walter Essington. A very special event at Old Trail was a wedding dinner for newlyweds Mrs. John F. Gordon, Jr. (Harriet Hollister) who were married this month at Manchester-by-the-Sea, Mass. The traditional wedding cake for the honeymooners and corsage for the new bride was the feature of the evening.

It can save your life

You can't see it. You pay nothing extra for it. You can't get it anywhere else.

It's there—when you step through your independent druggist's door. It's in that small, precious life-saving prescription. It's in the mind and heart and deft fingers of the man who picks one bottle out of a thousand—and knows he can't make a mistake.

It's wrapped in every package under your arm—as you walk out of your independent druggist's place of business. Whether to protect your precious beauty, or stand guard over your health—it's always there.

It's the priceless ingredient of professional integrity. Your independent druggist paid well to bring it to you. Four or more years in college. A year of practical experience in a pharmacy. State board examinations. A $30,000 investment on the average, in stock and fixtures.

But far beyond that—there is a code he lives by. A code that says to you, "When you buy here, you are protected."

You must agree that the safeguard of professional pharmacy is worth walking an extra block to get—especially when you pay nothing extra for it—and you can't get it anywhere else.

MRS. JOSEPH NIKODEN, JR.

Nikoden-Cain Rites Said in Kirk Chapel

The Rev. Harold DeWindt performed the double-ring ceremony for Margaret Jean Cain of Belleville and Joseph Nikoden, Jr., of Lathrup. The wedding took place before 200 guests at 3 p.m., Saturday, in the George chapel of Kirk-in-the-Hills.

Margaret, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Cain of Belleville, wore a floor-length gown of nylon tulle over summer satin. The gown was fashioned with a V-neck, a fitted bodice of embroidered net flaring to a full skirt and peplum and a white satin bustle. Her fingertip veil was attached to a net cap with tiny pearls scattered throughout. The bridal bouquet was made with a white orchid surrounded by stephanotis.

CAROL Ann Carpenter of St. Clair Shores was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Shirley Nikoden of Birmingham, sister of the bridegroom, and Mary Cain of Belleville, sister of the bride. They wore floor-length gowns of white nylon tulle with aqua crystalite jackets and aqua shoes extending to the floor in two panels in the back. The attendants had aqua mitts and aqua pixie style head pieces. They carried nosegays of baby pink roses.

"Through the Years" and "O Promise Me" were sung by June O'Connell. Henry Zender Jr. of Mt. Clemens was best man. Dr. Glenn Sanford of Oak Park and David Johnson of Detroit acted as the officiating ministers.
