LIGHT AND AIRY new classrooms will greet the first pupils of Our Lady Queen of Martyrs school on Pierce street when the doors are opened for the first time in September. The first six classroom unit was finished in May of this year and registrations already are filled for the fall term.

BITS OF BIRMINGHAM

THE PONTIAC CHIEFS, a group of lay gardeners sponsored by the Birmingham Garden club were unreported in last week's article on the recent Oakland County 4-H fair. The group includes Paul Wilcox, Louis Abernathy, Ronnie Foster, John Hornbach, John Miller, Leal Newsome and Bobbie Grosser. Several ribbons were won by the boys for the gardening project on which they have worked all summer.

THERE MUST BE someone in the world who feels the same about dishwashing as this Wanderer does. The Eccentric restaurant piece carried on an last week from a Birmingham restaurant which seeks an ad last week from a Birmingham "19 years old with at least 25 years experience." Yes, sir, washing dishes is truly the "moment that seems like a lifetime."

WHAT PRICE FOR LO? In the case of 14 year-old Frank Cuffit, of 825 Bonnaville, the price was climbing 35 feet in this limb with a very thin stick to snag one of the Birmingham Theatre balloons. The attached note entitled him to call at the theatre for a round-trip ticket to the popular down-river park. When manager Leo Fraser saw the game youngster with sweat on his brow and a few places on his limbs where the skin had worn thin, he tossed in an extra ticket for the boat ride so Frank could take a friend along. Fraser said that 500 such balloons were set free in Birmingham with various gift offers attached similar to the Bol-Lo trip. Many have been returned and on previous stunts of this nature the notes were returned from as far away as the Hamilton, Ontario area where the helium-filled balloons had wandered through the clouds.

TOMATOES COME HIGH at the Fred G. Parr home, 1316 Washington boulevard. They have been getting ripe tomatoes since July 11, some weighing in at a pound or more. The one catch in the bumper crop is that the vines are eight feet tall and the Parr family are just "ordinary" folks, making it a long reach to get at those top-of-the-vine beauties.

THE BACKYARD at 2209 Windemere will be the scene of a party from 2 to 4 p.m. Friday afternoon when area youngsters sponsor another fund raising affair for the Oakland county chapter, National Foundation for Polio. All children in the section are welcome to join the group in a program of games and refreshments, funds to be turned over to the emergency March of Dimes campaign.

IF YOU SHOULD SEE a woman wearing a new mink scarf while walking her cocker spaniel on Old Mill road, Franklin, after the weather turns cooler, don't be alarmed at the satisfied smile on her face. She will be Mrs. Robert Reason who was one of many ladies present at a fur fashion show at Oakland Hills Country Club Aug. 18, but he only one with the lucky number, A-n-d, it just so happens that the scarf is exactly what she's been wanting.

Obituary Notices

Picks Wrong Window Is Fined In Court

A 49-year-old Graefield tenant was found guilty in Birmingham justice court Wednesday on a disorderly conduct count for window peering into the residence of a Birmingham patrolman at 1801 Graefield Tuesday night, at 11:18 o'clock.

Jack Swain Houghton of 732 Graefield court, who pleaded not guilty, paid $25 fine and $15 costs for window peering. Patrolman Joseph Buckles made the arrest.

Houghton was warned by Judge John L. Emery, Jr., that should he continue this type of conduct he'd find himself in the county jail. The judge stated the facts were clearly against Houghton.
