Garden Club Members Plan Show and Tea, September 9

Members of the Walnut Lake division of the Women's National Farm and Garden Club enjoyed their trip to East Lansing on Thursday, August 18, to attend the annual workshop at Michigan State College, and reported a good turnout for the excursion.

Because of inclement weather in the morning, classroom lectures were substituted for tours of the campus. Professor Henry Chapman gave an interesting outline of the history of the college, and Dr. James Tyson and Dr. Buford Grigsby talked on grasses, and the eradication of weeds.

After luncheon, the group took in the displays of table arrangements, one entered from each division in the state, and found that a centerpiece of salmon-colored geraniums in an antique copper tea kettle, exhibited Mrs. Harry Barr of the Franklin division and Mrs. E. S. Maund of the Walnut Lake division had combined their talents had taken third prize.

They enjoyed demonstrations given by the well-known Detroit authority, Mrs. Albert F. Allmayer, from which they gleaned new pointers for their own use.

Some of the group managed to take the tour of the campus and greenhouses, under the auspices of Professor Chapman, in the late afternoon, after the weather had cleared, and these members stayed on for the dinner.

Local residents who went on the junket include Mrs. R. C. Banker, Mrs. E. S. Maund, Mrs. Parker Rockwell, Mrs. Neal Lund, Mrs. Lester Johns, Mrs. J. A. Bell, Mrs. Stewart Schultz, Mrs. Harry Barr, Mrs. J. F. Keane, and Mrs. Russell.

On Thursday, September 9, the club is putting on a garden show at the home of Mrs. E. J. Month, at 4009 Old Orchard drive. All members are urged to enter an exhibit, and have it at this address by 11 a.m. Punch and cookies will be served in the garden during the afternoon.

The R. A. Burns, of Kenmore drive, are happy with their summer guest, their father, A. V.

On his homeward way, Mr. Bunn will spend a few days in Canada, and leave this continent at Montreal, on September 15, to be at home in England in time for the marriage of his daughter.

CELEBRATION
After the hard work of moving and getting settled in their new home, the J. Victor Gausse, of South Clunbury drive, took time out on Tuesday evening, August 17, to observe their 25th wedding anniversary.

Friends were invited in for cocktails, when they admired the flowers and silver tea service which were among the couple's gifts for the occasion. Afterwards a group went out to dinner to continue the celebration.

On Saturday, a number of men who are employed with Gausse at Detroit Diesel spent the day in a "work-pee" in the yard of their home, leaving it in beautiful shape for fall planting.

There was a neighborly get-together for bridge at the home of Mrs. Wm. Bishop, of Sunnycrest drive, on Thursday evening, August 19. Those present were Mrs. Martin Wade, Mrs. John Phelps, Mrs. Wm. Sinclair, Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Lockhard of Wing Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, of Eastmoor road, with their children Susan and Skippy, returned home on Saturday, August 21, from a vacation spent in Lakewood, Ohio, where they visited relatives, after which they spent a week at Thousand Islands in New York.

A sight-seeing trip through Maine started off the vacation of the Donald E. Buttons, of East Dartmoor drive. Upon returning home, they left again for the family cottage at Pine Lake, near Otsego, for relaxation and sun.

LWV BREAKFAST
A get-acquainted breakfast was held this morning by the West Bloomfield division of the League of Women Voters at the home of Mrs. Sylvester Trythall, on Wil-

Thoughtless delay in saying "Thank You" via a bread-and-butter gift cannot but mar somewhat the feeling when it is received.
