

Christmas Pageant At Adams School
 Grades 4, 5, 6, and 7 will present a Christmas program in the Adams School auditorium at 8:00 P.M. Monday.
 The program will be in part mime with children representing the various countries in costume. Edward Woodworth is directing the program and is in charge of all vocal work. Harold Jones is director of the band and orchestra, and Barbara DeLong is in charge of all art work.

 All teachers of grades 4, 5, 6, and 7 are helping with the program. Robert Sneed, Vice-President of the School Council will introduce the program.
 The same program will be given as an assembly program on Monday.

Baskets Given For Christmas

The Birmingham high school Christmas assembly next Wednesday will feature the presentation of baskets of foods to the Salvation Army by congress president Ed Peters.

In celebrating the religious part of the program, Nina Slesman will sing "O Holy Night" and the choir will do a very difficult composition, "The Song of Christmas."
 Rodney Peterson, organist at the First Methodist church, will play for the assembly and Bill Nechman will offer a prayer.

The gym will be decorated with four trees representing the four classes in the school with each grade decorating its own tree.

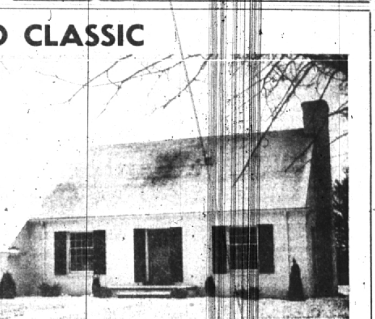

will work under Dorothy Allen in the first and sixth hour English classes.
 Another student teacher is coming toward the end of January to do practice teaching in some of Miss Mary Hartwick's classes. They will also be a trapeze in speech teaching under Angelo Anzolelli.

Student Instructors In BHS Classrooms

Several new student teachers will be coming to BHS to do practice teaching during the winter quarter.
 Among them will be Ethel Rodwin, sister Georgia who will be with Sally Rod and Jeannette Scott with the girls' gym classes.
 Miss Boehm, a senior at Michigan State College, is a graduate of Birmingham high school.
 Virginia Ward, also from MSG,

CAPE COD CLASSIC

Every detail of this brick home is a perfect example of true architectural beauty in the classic Cape Cod tradition.

At last! A family kitchen that's big enough for every meal-time kibitzer! Its beamed ceiling, and knotty pine paneled accents impart their own special warmth.

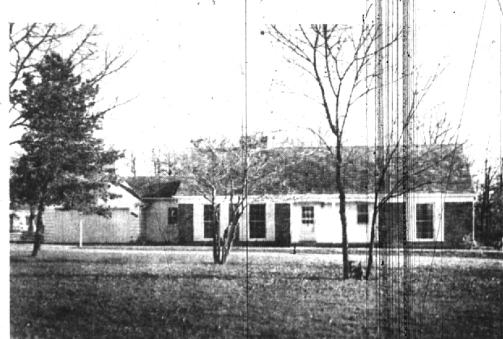

No need to pare your party guest lists in the gracious 28 foot living room. Two full decorator baths—one down to serve the 1st floor bedroom-den and another for the three spacious family bedrooms upstairs. Most of the custom features you'll want to see for yourself like the extra high basement and integrated 2 car garage—you may come from 2 to 5 Friday afternoon or at anytime by appointment.

Price including landscaping and aluminum storms and screens, $32,500.

 OPEN SUNDAYS

DOLLS FOR OAKLAND COUNTY'S handicapped children is an annual affair of students at Kingswood school. Together with the boys from Cranbrook and under the sponsorship of the Church Cabinet, they entertain some 60 children each year at a Christmas party. Every little girl receives a skillfully-dressed doll while the boys share gifts presented by Cranbrook students. This year's party took place Saturday at the school with Santa presiding. Here Karen VanHeet, left, and Cynthia Adams give the dolls a last minute check. Doll costumes ranged from beautiful young brides to the Florida vacationer decked out in Bermuda shorts.
