

LWV Women Study Their Own Liberty

Individual Liberties is subject of December unit meetings of the Birmingham League of Women Voters, program prepared by the local committee on "Individual Liberties" headed by Mrs. F. Chalmers Smith.

Members of the committee will lead discussion at each unit meeting. Since this is one of the items on the national league's agenda, as adopted in the general convention in Denver last April, the committee members have the assistance of material provided for study by the national organization.

The times and places of the meetings are: Unit II, Monday, Dec. 6, 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Herman Silverkus, 1820 Fairfield;

MRS. DEAN ARNOLD SMITH

New Orleans Motor Trip for Newlyweds

A Juliet cap of alencon lace held in place Jeanie McKay Palmer's fingertip veil of illusion for her marriage to Dean Arnold Smith. The 2 o'clock rites were read Nov. 20 in Christ church, Grosse Pointe. The Rev. Erville B. Maynard officiated at the double ring ceremony before 120 wedding guests.

The bride chose a gown of white silk and alencon lace. The bodice was fashioned with a scooped neckline and cap sleeves and the skirt had a sweeping train. She carried white orchids and stephanotis.

Jeanie is the daughter of Mrs. Lee S. Palmer of Grosse Pointe and the late Mr. Palmer. Dean's parents are Mrs. Arnold Smith of Huntington Woods and Charles McCabe Smith, 564 Brookside.

ACTING as matron of honor was Mrs. Kenneth E. Wandel, sister of the bride, from Detroit. Bridesmaids were her cousins, Mrs. Joseph Perron, and Mrs. Michael McFadden, Jr. The attendants wore deep rose velvet waist length dresses and carried Mamie Eisenhower carriages.
