A Satisfying Memory Is All That's Left of Tom Turkey

Old Tom Turkey just didn't have a chance here in the Berkshires. It was a drumstick here, a piece of white meat there and about now all that's left is a memory of a great, big, beautiful bird and one of those wonderful family get-togethers.

For the Edward Colmans, on Wedgewood drive, old Tom went twenty ways at one. Those who enjoyed him right down to the carcase were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Colman, Sr.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Colman, Jr.; and their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Korzus and their two children; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Homier and their little one, Mrs. Elizabeth Jaki, May Jaki and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Den Broeck and their chick.

Next door, at 3886 Wedgewood, the George Lyman's had their share of turkey, too. Their family circle included Mr. Lyman's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hensh and their three children, aunt, Miss Dell Hyster, and Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Rehn and their two sons from Lapeer, where the doctor is superintendent of the Lapeer State Home and Training school.

Over at 7140 Parkhurst drive, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Lawrence welcomed their son, Doug and wife, from Ann Arbor for the day. Their other son, Parker, living in Fort Wayne, Ind., hopes to make it up for Christmas but right now he's pretty busy with his nine-week-old daughter. He's probably teaching her to say "grandma" and "granddad" which is no bad deal!

Other Ann Arborians, a trio of University of Michigan students to be exact, came to town. They included Lois Yandell, daughter of the J. C. Yandells, at 20300 Elmwood. Lois put her Poly Science studies in order before she and a friend, Roberta Johnson, came home for turkey. Roberta, who lives in Detroit, was Lois' week-end guest while Roberta's folks were on a hunting trip.

The Edgar F. Waits celebrated their first Thanksgiving in their new home on Foxchase when son, Bill, a senior at UI, came home to share the turkey.

To complete the trio, Janet McColl, now in her freshman year at the University, spent the holiday weekend with her mom and dad, the Archie McColls, on Parkhurst drive. The whole family rejoiced that the McColl's other daughter, Mrs. Bernard Cannan, and the three little Cannans from Toledo couldn't be with them, but just wait until Christmas!

It wasn't all incoming traffic last Thursday—some folks left home to eat turkey at someone else's house. For instance, the Rene Foxes, with sons Jimmy, Bobby and Billy, journeyed to Flint to spend the day with Mrs. Foxes' family, the Robert Hasskils, and relatives, Mrs. Arthur Freeman, Thelma Freeman and Mrs. Gay Burk. It was young Billy's first Thanksgiving.

NEW ARRIVAL
Little Miss Lucy Trehwella has arrived! She weighed in at 8 lbs., 2 ozs., at the Detroit Osteopathic hospital, Sunday morning at 1 a.m. When she comes home to 7145 Parkhurst drive, she'll be greeted by her four-year-old brother, Billy. Daddy Bill will be on hand, too, to welcome his brand new baby girl.

The Berkshires want to congratulate Nancy Rutz, daughter of Mr.

KITTY WILSON (right) has the unusual distinction of holding the office of president for the Unalco company, Junior Achievement enterprise sponsored by the Birmingham National bank. With Mrs. Edythe Peck, bank representative and adult advisor for the firm, Kitty displays the Christmas door bell chimes, their current project. Orders in at present indicate that sales will probably reach the 500 mark. In addition to her Junior Achievement work, Kitty holds office in two school organizations and serves as committee chairman in several other activities. (Eccentric Photo)
