North Adams 4-H Club Activities Keep Robert Dudley Family Busy

The Robert H. Dudley home on Charing Cross road bubbled with excitement over the weekend. Mrs. Dudley's mother, Mrs. Olive Shoemaker, Mr. and Mrs. Herold Bradley and Mrs. Dorothy Herbart arrived from Alliquippa, Penn. last Wednesday evening.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Dudley brought daughter Virginia home from Michigan State University. And Wednesday evening the 4-H meeting took place at the Dudley home. Instead of the meeting turned into "old home week" as all the youngsters were present and much, much chatter replaced instruction.

Mrs. Dudley took eight 4-H members to Lansing to the Michigan State - Marquette football game and the night and night billiards at the Union.

Three came home after the game but the others stayed to square dance at Peoples church across from the camp. Jack Worthington, who is the new 4-H club county agent, was caller for the evening. The interim between game and dance was filled with food and billiards at the Union.

A family gathering took place at the Arthur Higginbottom home on Hylane Higginbottom drive. Their family gathered from Detroit and Lansing.

C. W. Eilber has returned from his annual deer-hunting expedition on Manitowish Island. Did he bring home the buck? He always does.

WELCOME NEWCOMER
 Another new home in another new subdivision is owned and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie J. Keeler who moved to 4171 Orchard Hill road from Detroit in October. Keeler is supervising auditor in the audit division of General Motors. The Keelers have one son, John. This is his last year in the Naval service, Right now, he is on his return trip to this country and his family expects him home in February.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert East of Windsor, Ont. were the Thanksgiving day guests of the Donald J. Flynn of Big Beaver road.

Lacy Gay Smith celebrated her eighth birthday Wednesday with a powder puff party. The little guests found at their places all the equipment that they yearn to borrow from mother's dressing table. If the amount of lipstick and rouge smeared upon their pretty little faces was any indication of the fun they were having, the party was a huge success.

The whole James M. Smith family traveled to Derby, N. Y. Thanksgiving weekend for the reading of Priscilla Bixby to John McKee, Miss Bixby and Mrs. Smith are sisters.

Plans for a home reception had to be changed and the party took place at the Wauwaka Country club because last week the Bixby home burned to the ground. To have Lake Erie in their backyard did not help the fire fighters.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Kirbert spent the Thanksgiving holidays with Mrs. Kirbert's family, the George H. Oberkleins in Cincinnati. It was a weekend of reunions for Kirbert is also from that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Markey spent Thanksgiving week at the Norman Barne IB Ranch in northern Michigan. Mrs. Markey said that while they themselves do not hunt, it is still fun to accompany the hunters.
