Larger Wrigley Market Planned For Hunter Site

Construction of a new building for the Wrigley Market here is expected to be started shortly after the start of the new year. Wrigley officials confirmed this week. To gain needed floor space for the chain store's business, a 24,000 square-foot building was built on the east side of Hunter, across from the present store. Located on property north of Harrison Floor Covering company, the site will include off-street parking space for between 250 and 300 cars.

The building itself will be nearly twice the size of the present store. It will be completely air conditioned with the latest in super market innovations for customer convenience.

Featuring a frozen meat counter and frozen food cases in pastel colors. Plans call for 10 check-out counters with two entrances. Herman Zukowski, manager of the Birmingham store, will continue as manager of the new building.

Muffler Movie Filmed at Gables

Devon Gables restaurant was the site of a movie location last week when motion pictures were taken of a new Chrysler New Yorker featuring mufflers and tail pipes manufactured by the Oldberg Manufacturing company. Complete with models in evening dress and Christmas decorations in the background, some 10 technicians combined to picture the car for Film Associates, headed by James MacLane, 1808 Yosemite. Firm officials believe that the films were the first devoted to car mufflers.

Police Warn of Holiday Driving

Birmingham Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley issued the following warning today to local citizens planning to attend Christmas or New Year parties: "Leave your cars home if you don't want to run the risk of becoming a highway statistic. Wherever possible, go to and from festivities—especially from city to city and 35 on the highway. The few cents it will cost is cheap life insurance."
