HOLY NAME SCHOOL students have been busy the past few weeks painting posters and writing essays to publicize the need for a new church. Left to the judges was the task of selecting the best efforts in both categories. Poster judges Mrs. Edward F. Burnham, left, and Mrs. Constant L. Bouchard found the job confusing as nearly 100 entries were placed in their hands. (Eccentric Staff Photo)

Maple Reserves Turn the Tables On Hazel Park

The Birmingham reserves gained revenge over the only team able to beat them this season by whipping Hazel Park 56-53 last Friday night.

The contest was not as close as the score indicates. The Maples started with a bang and by the close of first half activities, held the Parkers' unsuccessful try to charge back to make quite a battle of it.

The win virtually sewed up the reserve title for the locals with a six-win, one-loss League slate and 11 victories during the season as a whole. Every other squad in the loop has dropped at least three decisions.

CAPTAIN BILL SWANEY tallied 19 points, all of them in the first half, to tap the locals' attack. Bob Hanzuch 12 to aid the cause. Bill Hazlerig and Walt Toefel, both juniors, totaled 35 points in the Parkers' unsuccessful try to upset the Maples for the second time this season.

The Maples go to Port Huron tomorrow evening to battle the Big Red. The contest begins at 6:45.

Kingswood Show Set For Feb. 19-20

The last minute "agit and polish" is being put on the performance of Benjamin Britten's "Let's Make An Opera" to be presented at 8:15 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Feb. 19 and 20 at Kingswood School Cranbrook.

Sung by the 11th and 12th grade glee club, with an assist from the audiences which will be asked to participate in several chorus numbers, the production will be the premiere performance in Michigan of the work.

First seen in London in 1951, the show was hailed by the London News Chronicle as "delightful, an entertainment unlike any other, the kind of show that should go all over the country."

Tickets are unreserved and are available at $1.25 each. They may be obtained by calling Kingswood School.

Juniors Take Kuder Preference Tests

Kuder preference tests were administered to all juniors last week in English classes.

Tests measure the individual's interest in mechanical, computational, scientific, persuasive, artistic, literary, musical, social service, and clerical vocations.

Students scored the tests and drew their own profiles. Results will be placed in each student's permanent record folder.

Kuder tests were also taken by all sophomores last fall. The testing program for the school year was concluded with these tests.
