PTA Council Presents Safety Panel Program

The hope of the Birmingham PTA Council to fill the gymnasium at the Feb. 22 meeting, so parents could learn how the council of the 11 city PTA groups operate, was disappointing stated Mrs. Gilbert Goode. There was such a small attendance that the meeting was held in the Little Theater.

The program consisted of a panel of safety patrol captains and lieutenants and a panel of service squadron members who carried out the Council's theme of "Safety". Bennett W. Root, father vice president of the Council, was in charge of the program.

Anne Abbott was moderator for the Girl's Service squadron. The panel's main topic of discussion was the question "How can we get our parents to abide by the school rules as we are expected to?"

DISCUSSING the traffic problem for the Safety Patrol boys was moderator Robert McKenzie of Pierce school. The patrol boys claim it is hard enough to direct children at regular crossings, but when parents drive to school and stop in the middle of a block to let their children out, patrol help is impossible.

There was also a discussion as to whether student offenders should be punished, such as having certain privileges taken away from them.

Thomas H. Cason, instructor of the driver education program in the high school, explained how the course works and stated that only 89 students can be accommodated each year. Five students participated on the panel, with Tom Kayburg as moderator.

Next meeting is scheduled for March 22 at which time Charles B. Kass, chairman of community services in Birmingham, will speak on "Teen Age Problems in Birmingham".

News About GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP 332—VAUGHAN SCHOOL

The following officers have been elected in this troop: Fay Higgenek, president; Joan Anderson, treasurer; Ha Powell, scribe. The troop is having a joint meeting with other Vaughan school troops on the afternoon of March 2 to celebrate Juliette Low's birthday. Ha Powell has been selected to present the troop's birthday box.

TROOP 345—QUARTON SCHOOL

This troop has enjoyed both a Valentine party and a tobogganing party. They are planning a Father and Daughter party in the near future. Many of the girls will take part in the Scout swimming program now underway.

TROOP 321—FRANKLIN

The troop has completed a tape recording of a play for the Torch Award. This is available to whoever may wish to use it—it might be interesting to use along with film strips of the agencies the girls describe in the script.

Plans are underway for the Franklin Juliette Low birthday celebration and a future campout.
