

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO this month, Lathrup Woman's club held its first meeting with Mrs. Earl Doig as president. On Monday, the organization that began with 50 members and now totals about 300, held an anniversary tea at the House in the Woods. Pictured from left are Mrs. John Reilly, tea chairman, Mrs. Willard Sky and Mrs. Thomas North. First aim of the club was to establish a library at Lathrup school, then not part of the Southfield school system. After this, the group turned to other projects, including sponsoring Girl Scout troops in Lathrup, supplying veterans' hospitals with handcraft equipment and miscellaneous items and awarding several nursing scholarships.

Teen-Age Thespians Make Debut Saturday

Birmingham's Teen-Age theater will make its debut Saturday, Feb. 6, at the Community House, presenting "The Happy Days", a French play which has had considerable success in Europe and on Broadway.

A New York critic said, "The Happy Days is a comic and touching story of adolescent boys and girls whose emotional life is unstable. As a playwright, Puget is a little too facile to tell the truth bluntly, but he has written this fable with disarming sympathy for the pangs of adolescence and has not forgotten that it also sounds ridiculous to adult ears."

The Birmingham young people will present the play under the sponsorship of the local Civitan club, a fund-raising project for the club's emergency fund.

The production has been directed by Miss Sara Strengell, conductor of the Teen-Age theater, and former actress on European and Broadway stages.

THE BIRMINGHAM cast will include Judy Goldstein as "Francine"; Linda Lewis as "Bernette"; and Catherine Glaser and Carole Lauer alternating in the role of "Marianne".

Supporting male players will be Tom Groves, Robert Erlich and Richard Alan.

"All these youngsters," Miss Strengell said, "show a marked interest in the theater and have already given proof of their talents in earlier productions."

Linda Lewis has declared her intention of making the theater her profession.

THE DIRECTOR added that the Village Players and parents of the cast had cooperated by supplying furniture and other props for the production.

Carl H. Ingraham is in charge of ticket sales, assisted by Hugh McGuckin, Edwin Dowd and B. Bouge. Tickets will also be sold at the door for both the student performance at 2:30 p.m., and the open show at 8:30 p.m.

Miss Strengell added that the theater was planning to offer their services and present "The Happy Days" as a recreational feature for the Veterans hospital in Dearborn.

Student Panels To Discuss Safety For PTA Council

Two student panels will highlight the Monday, Feb. 22 meeting of the Birmingham PTA Council. The panels will be held at Birmingham high school gym.

According to Bennett W. Root, father-president of the organization, the program will be turned over to a panel of safety patrol captains and lieutenants and a panel of service squad members to continue the Council's theme of safety throughout this year.

Each panel will have a student moderator.

The group hopes to fill the gymnasium for this meeting and has invited all interested persons to attend and learn more of how the council of the 11 city PTA groups is operated.
