MYF to Conduct Recruiting Drive

Young people will hold the spotlight at the First Methodist church during the coming week, as a Youth Evangelism gets into full swing on Sunday.

Finely trained teams of selected young people will visit others of their ages in the parish, inviting them to take part in the church school and Methodist Youth Fellowship activities. Activities will center around youths in the seventh through 12th grades.

TRAINING of these teams has been handled by Mark Martin, Mrs. Beth Duffy, Jean Masterton, youth representative, and a committee on evangelism headed by Kenneth Janke.

A spokesman said the program was being carried on throughout the state as MYF members appeal to Sunday-stay-at-homes to join more actively in church affairs. The entire program has been launched in answer to an appeal made by Bishop Marshall Head.
