Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Evers of Lathrup held open House on New Year's Eve for 26 guests and classes from the University of Michigan. A student at Michigan State, Mrs. William Kellogg who was a houseguest, returned to Chicago, Ill., on Saturday where she will resume her teaching duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Waters and family of Bangorville drove moved into their new home in Dearborn last week. Mrs. Low Veld held open house on New Year's Eve at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wagoner of Lathrup boulevard. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Walter Sorenberg and daughter Carol of Glenwood spent a week in New York City where Carol attended ballet classes. Sorenberg joined them for the New Year's holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Andrews of Golden Gate were entertained with a buffet supper and cards Jan.

Most folks, after they reach sufficient maturity, learn to love others for their kindness and consideration, not for their looks. For the beauty "which is a skin deep", can wear off—but a kindly and considerate person retains this quality all his life.

W. Beverly Busy Yet At Holiday Parties

WEST BEVERLY—While the Max Roenschens, with sons Max, Jr., and Robert, were skiing at Boyne mountain over the holidays, their daughter, Winifred, may have been enjoying the same sport in the Austrian Tyrol. Shortly after Christmas the Roenschens received a letter from Winifred, outlining her plans to go to Ehrwald, Austria, for the holidays.

She mentioned, however, that skiing conditions were far from ideal at that time, as the slopes in both Switzerland and Austria were virtually snowless. Winifred is attending the Sorbonne in Paris, as a participant in the Junior Year in France program, and will return to Hollins college in Virginia, next fall for her senior year.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall L. Willis of Birwood road returned last week, with their children, Carol and Dick, from a three-week trip to the West coast. They spent the holidays with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Taylor of San Francisco.

On Jan. 4, Mrs. James S. Allen entertained eight friends at a luncheon in her Devonshire road home.

Visiting the George Nelsons of Riverside drive for two weeks during the holidays was their daughter, Mrs. Frank B. Nair, Jr., and her daughter, Janet Lynn Ann Arrar. Their son-in-law also managed to slip away from his studies at the university long enough to spend Christmas and New Year's with the family. On Dec. 30, Mrs. Nelson was hostess at a tea, to give friends an opportunity to meet her new granddaughter. A buffet supper for 26 guests was given in the Nelson home on New Year's Eve.

It may have been just coincidental that Mrs. D. C. Harrison moved from Royal Oak to 18427 Warwick road, on Dec. 9 they had their son, Duane, who lives in Redford, Ind. Harrison is owner of the Harrison shoe store in Royal Oak. Back for a week's visit with his parents in Florida, is Harold Kalbfleisch of Beconfield, road in Detroit. He and his wife will remain in their winter home at Boca Raton, until about the first of May.

Just before they left for Florida on Dec. 7, the Charles D. Clarke gave a get-acquainted party for all their Birwood road neighbors. The Clarke spent the holidays with her parents, the R. Alan Penningtons, in Vero Beach, Fla., visited friends in Miami Beach, and spent some time in Havana before returning home last week.

Perfectly timed to offset the post-holiday letdown, was a hard times party given by the Riverside dance club Saturday night at the Western Golf club. Checked tablecloths and tattered raiment pointed up the theme, with broom and mop dances adding a note of hilarity to the occasion.

Designated as a "guest dance," the party had the largest attendance of the season. Among those attending as guests were the Dornier Learmonts and L. E. Berner.

Three Artists Perform For Musicale Thursday

Marie Fox Wilson, contralto, will be featured with Mary Louise Lindquist, soprano, and Helen Maday McAlister, pianist, on the Birmingham Musicale program Jan. 14. The event will take place at 2 p.m. in the Community House.

Mrs. Wilson, soloist at St. James' Episcopal church in Birmingham, has performed with the Detroit Symphony, and appeared in opera in New York. She has chosen a group of art songs for the program including "The Night My Love" by Hageman, and Charles Wakefield Cadogan's "Song of the Universe," Evlyn W. by Beethoven.

Mrs. McAlister, who is a former pupil of Artur Schnabel, will offer on her part of the program piano selections by Bach, Brahms and Liszt. Howard D. Ritter is chairman of the affair and Mrs. Carl W. Moyer will be in charge of the tea which will follow. Assisting Mrs. Moyer with arrangements will be Mrs. Martin L. Butzel, Mrs. Charles C. Cheever, Mrs. Charles C. Currie, Mrs. Carl T. Gurding, Mrs. Henry C. McQueen, Mrs. C. Thurber Woolson and Mrs. Bert E. Uebel, Jr.

MRS NEWELL ALLEN, Mrs. Herbert H. Gardner, Mrs. John H. Abbott, Mrs. Joseph Williams and Mrs. Carl B. Block will preside at the tea tables.

Mrs. John S. Wintzringham's hostess committee consists of Mrs. William B. Bond, Mrs. Robert Lynn and Mrs. Paul Stocker. Workday will be Mrs. William L. Mitchell on house and stage duties are Mrs. James S. Moon and Mrs. Eldred C. Scott.

Newcomer Is "Jill-Of-All-Trades"

By ALICE E. MORGAN

"Versatile" is an excellent one-word description of a recent newcomer to Birmingham, Mrs. Delwih M. Campbell of 343 Golfview.

She came to Birmingham from Chicago last fall and has been busily engaged in "fixing over" her home since that time. In addition to this, she has a number of talents and accomplishments, including a no mean ability as a poet.

Her poems she writes as the "you're's" idea, especially for women. "I write them down, I give some away, of course, but I've never been serious enough about it to be serious about the market."

TWO, especially appropriate to this time of year, she has permitted The Eccentric to publish. Both are something familiar to everyone living in this climate, but concerning the discarded Christmas tree trees:

A Wish
Fervently I hope and pray
That this year may see
A much kinder fate befall
The loved Christmas tree.

That this symbol of God's love
And of Jesus' Birth,
Be returned from whence it
Came, and given to the poor.
Part again of earth.

That it not be tossed about
In the mud and mire,
Have it mingle with the clouds
In a blaze of fire.

TURNING her thoughts from the Christmas tree to the weather which is visiting the area right now, Mrs. Campbell penned her poem "Blizzards":

Winter winds whistling
Thick with snow and ice,
There it goes arblasting
Back in just a trice!

Round the corner whipping
Sharp with sting and sleet,
Then so slyly slipping
Out into the street.

Then it goes swirling
Blindly past the windows,
Now it starts scurrying
Up into the sky.

Back it comes arblasting
Slaps one in the face,
With a bittered, hoarse arblasting
Off again in space.

Family Favorites

Rare, indeed, is the housewife who doesn't have a favorite recipe... one she can use any time for the family or friends and which continues to bring her compliments every time it is served.

It may be a family "heirloom" handed down from mother to daughter over several generations. It may be a basic recipe which an experimental mother has altered to the individual tastes of her family. It may be one she, herself, has "invented."

In preparing a series of these special recipes for The Eccentric, Ruth Anne Silbar discovered that many a husband dons the tall white hat and takes over in the kitchen, too.

Like the housewives, these men have their special favorites and prepare these dishes whenever the opportunity presents itself.

Thus it is that in the series which this week, the men will share honors with the family cook in contributing "extra specials" to other Birmingham families.

If you have a favorite recipe you would like to share with other readers, we urge you to send it to the Society Editor of The Eccentric. Or at a neighboring friend's home you may have enjoyed a special dish or meal and believe it should be featured in this new column.

If so, let us know the cook's name, and we will contact her (or him).

MRS. CHARLES BLUNT

1 cup, more or less as you prefer, 1 1/2 cups mayonnaise. Mix crumbs or roll out some Perovs 4-6 in a moderate oven about 5 hours. If so, let us know the cook's name, and we will contact her (or him).

MRS. CHARLES BLUNT
2 cans shrimp. (CRAB meat may be used instead if desired.)
6 eggs.
Mix the shrimp or crab meat and the eggs with a fork in a casserole. Add chopped celery. Stir in grated sharp cheese. Wet. Sprinkle buttered bread crumbs or roll out some Perovs 4-6 in a moderate oven about 5 hours. If so, let us know the cook's name, and we will contact her (or him).

Nice for Sunday Suppers

Like shrimp? Is your dish cheese? Then this is your shark. The recipe for Shrimp Shark comes from Mrs. Charles Blunt, Bloomfield Village. It is, she says, a very handy casserole dish to have on your list.

Originally a family recipe coming from South Carolina, Katherine Blunt has given the directions for its making to her many friends who have asked to make this her home.

"I've given it to enough people," she said, "so that it is not a secret recipe. I have served it many times for a simple Sunday night supper. Shrimp, tomatoes, toasted English muffins and cold ale or beer go well with it."

"New News from the Old World" will be Mrs. Charles Shain's topic when she speaks to members of the Newcomers Club on current news interests.

The luncheon meeting and biannual election of officers will begin at 12:30 p.m. Jan. 21, at the Community House.

Magnolia Club Hears Mrs. Eugene Hunter, Russian Born Speaker

Mrs. Eugene Hunter was guest speaker for the Magnolia Community club on Tuesday, using as her topic "Timely Russia."

Mrs. Hunter, born in Russia, came to the United States in 1923, later became a naturalized citizen. On a subsequent visit to Russia she was interned as an alien and kept on shipboard for three years. During that time she was able to observe the reactions of the Russian people to the changes brought about by the communist government.

Hostesses for the social hour were Mrs. M. Baker, Mrs. A. Brewer, Mrs. G. C. Applquist, Mrs. F. R. Barnabo, and Mrs. F. W. Lerkko.
