

TO THE MAN WHO COMES UP with a soft-collared, summer weight shirt for policemen and firemen, acceptable to all city officials, will go the everlasting acclaim of perspiring protectors of the people. When the temperature soars into the high eighties and nineties, handkerchiefs become mops for faces and necks as patrolmen continue to haul away all tight collars. Here Don Moonen of the Birmingham police force checks a parking meter under a baking sun and tries to think of cooler things. (Eccentric Photo)

Eccentric Divides Into 2 Companies

The Eccentric, effective today, July 1, announces the formation of two corporate entities to carry on its business of producing a newspaper and commercial printing. For a number of years it has been conducted as a partnership between George R. Averill and his brother, Paul N. Averill. Ownership of the new corporations will remain in their possession. One of the corporations will be known as The Birmingham Eccentric, Inc., and will produce the newspaper. George R. Averill will be president and Paul N. Averill will be vice president.

THE COMMERCIAL printing business will be known as The Averill Press, Inc., with Paul N. Averill president, George R. Averill vice president. Both Averills will be directors of the two companies, with George R. Averill, son of George R. Averill, also a director of both corporations.

Buy Mobile Radio

A mobile radio unit was purchased from the General Electric company Monday night by Troy Township board members at a cost of $300. The unit will be used as a spare for the township's police department.

YOU CAN HELP US NEXT WEEK BY...

Submitting editorial and advertising copy early for next week's issue of The Eccentric.

The July 4th long weekend will find The Eccentric's doors closed, limiting our publication time.

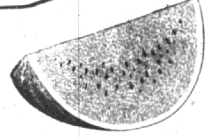

Through your help we will be able to give the proper treatment to news stories and advertising material in the July 8 edition.
