WEST BEVERLY—At a Beverly Hills association board of directors meeting, held last week at the Community House, the following new officers were elected: C. I. Vogpl, president; Bradley Stephenson, vice president; S. R. Andersen, treasurer, and J. T. Dorrough, secretary. Board members are charged with the following duties, restrictions, Bradley Stephenson; area maintenance, O. C. Lillie; and membership, Emil Du-Roska, Chet Guilmet, W. R. Irvine and Herbert Ashcraft.

With the 'good old summertime' pilot students out to Kensington fast approaching, school and young park, near New Hudson, for a natures' activities occupy center stage. A "graduation fling" for 125 West Beverly contingent will Baldwin sixth grade students will be room mothers, Mrs. John Ma-be keeping many area mothers donna, Mrs. Douglass Witters and busy this afternoon, when they Mrs. Wayne Stettbacher.

This area was well represented when honors were announced at the annual senior dinner held recently at Birmingham high school. Winner of the Williams college book award was Bill Hohmeyer, son of the William H. Hohmeyer, of Hillcrest road, and an NRC scholarship was awarded Don Dorrough, son of the J. T. Dorroughs, of Beaconsfield road.

At the traditional senior chapel service at Amherst college, Georgia, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Forbes, of Buckingham road, was one of the members of the class of 1955 to be tapped for Scarab honorary society.

A few weeks ago, the 17 members of Brownie Troop 381 attended a hayride and buffet supper near Rochester. Assisting for the occasion were Troop's leaders and co-leaders, Mrs. Stanley Andersen and Mrs. E. J. Lakatos, and Mrs. Paul Shephard, Mrs. Thomas Poole and Mrs. Robert Durward. At the troop's last meeting of the season June 2, the girls enjoyed a social meeting with games and refreshments.

Alison Hadley, of Warwick road, and Kay Madonna, of Bedford road, were among Birmingham high school students who attended the annual Spanish club picnic Thursday.

The Clarence Faulmans, of Devonshire road, are back from a week's trip to New York, where they wished their son and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hoffman, of Pontiac, bound for Europe aboard the liner Italia. The Hoffmans planned to spend a good share of their time visiting relatives and their birthplace in Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Van Horn, and their daughter, Judy, spent the week of May 17 at the Carolinian hotel, in Nags Head, N. Car.

Among those who made use of the long Decoration Day weekend for visits to relatives were Mrs. C. B. Griffin, and son, Chuck, of Kirkshire road. With her daughter and son-in-law, the James Michells and their daughter, the Birmingham, they visited Mrs. Griffin's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Long, of Spencer-ville, Ohio.

The Vern K. Proctors, of Riverside cliff, observed the holidays by entertaining their neighbors at an outdoor steak fry. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ellis and son, Tommy; the Harold Van Horns and daughter, Judy; the Bradley Stephensons and Mary Bradley; Mr. and Mrs. John Powers and John Anthony, and Victor Zucco, of Detroit.

Decoration day weekend came in handy as "travel time" for the Harry Hyvonen, en route back to their Mayfair lane home from a two-week trip to the west coast with Mr. and Mrs. William Hendrickson, of Birmingham. They spent their second week attending a national waterworks convention at Seattle, and their first week visiting friends in California. Among these were two families who recently moved from West Beverly, the Richard Lakes and Dick Stites.

The Lake home is located high on a cliff near Long Beach, overlooking the ocean. Enthusiastic about their new location, Mr. and Mrs. Lake reported it's a place where people are neighborly, marketing is fun, and a favorite dinner-time diversion is watching two spouting whales cavorting nightly, at the foot of their cliff.

During their two-day stay in San Francisco, the Hyvonen were joined for dinner one evening by Mr. and Mrs. Stites, now Californians of a year's standing, whose home is located an hour's drive down the peninsula from San Francisco. Other high spots of their trip were a drive up Mt. Ranier, a two-day stay at the Sands hotel in Las Vegas, and a scenic trip by

Smile a Minute... Little Willie, after an absence of two days, arrived back at school. "Didn't your mother write a note?" asked his teacher. "Yes, ma'am, but I forgot to bring it," replied Willie. "Well, young man," went on the teacher, "why were you away?" "I don't know, I didn't read the note."

Chantilly Lace Worn For Methodist Vows

Laura Grace Mashaw and Richard Charles Alexander were married at 7:30 p.m., June 3, at the First Methodist church. The Rev. Harry O. Martin read the double-ring ceremony rites before 100 wedding guests.

Laura is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Payne of Holland. Richards parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Alexander of Fourteen Mile road.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap of tulle, accented with seed pearls. She carried a spray of orchids and staphanotis.

HONOR attendant, Mrs. Bertell Schoenfeld, was gowned in lilac pink imported silk with a matching long lenzie veil of illusion which fell from a Juliet cap. She carried an old fashioned basket of pastel colored painted daisies. Mrs. Richard Shave and Sharon Woodward, both of Royal Oak, were ballerina length gowns identical to the honor attendants.

Richard Mashaw, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Rodney Jacob and Richard Shave, both of Royal Oak.

THE BRIDE'S mother chose an eggshell faille ensemble, pink accessories and a corsage of pink gladiolus. Richard's mother adorned a navy silk ensemble. Her gladiolus matched her shimmering pink hat and gloves.

To start her motor trip through Northern Michigan, the new Mrs. Alexander wore a gray cashmere suit with black patent accessories and an orchid corsage.

Out of town wedding guests included Mrs. C. H. Alexander of Baltimore, Md. and Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Brice of Irvington, Va., all grandparents of the groom.
