SOUTHEAST OF BIRMINGHAM—Over 190 children in the first three grades received their third and last shot in the Salk polio vaccine last Monday at the Upton School, Mrs. Louis Leverage of Oliva avenue, registered nurse who is health and hygiene chairman for the Upton PTA, organized the work and recruited mothers to serve as clinical aids.

Tuesday evening, the newly elected officers of the Woodward Improvement association met at the home of the new president, John Gaskin, on Trafford road, to make plans for the coming year.

Other new officers are George Reid of Bamlet road, vice president; R. F. Main, Jr., of Guilford road, secretary; and William J. Cedar of Abernethy road, treasurer.

Richard C. Peters of Bembridge road is chairman of recreation and civil defense and Richard Newton of Glenwood road is chairman in charge of building and restrictions. Wayne White of Glenwood avenue and Terry Malino of Bembridge road were officers last year who continue to serve as board members for the coming year.

Early last week the W. H. L. Everards returned to their home on Elmwood avenue after spending Memorial day week-end with their son and daughter-in-law, the Bill Everards of Detroit, at their summer place near Vanderbilt.

Sunday, the Everards had a family dinner at their home to honor Mrs. Everard on her birthday anniversary and to honor her granddaughter, Candace Cedar, after her confirmation at St. James Episcopal church. The William Ceders, Bill Everards, and Mrs. Everard's sisters from Pleasant Ridge, Mrs. H. G. Stevens and Mrs. Lucille Hubert, were the guests.
