

BIT OVERSE

A MAN'S GARDEN

Breathes there a man with soul so dead
Who never to himself has said
"I'll have a garden plot this year
I think I'll spade it up right here"
So happily he goes to work
Nor does he ever thing he'll shirk,
A catalog of seeds he brings
Selects his cabbages and things,
As soon as he comes home at night
He soaks and rakes with all his might,
Till in a few short weeks he sees
Sprouting lettuce, beans and peas.
So he sits down to watch them grow
With satisfaction he should know
But when the warmer days appear,
The garden doesn't seem to dear
He straightaway grabs his rake and hoe
And leaves the garden, just to grow,
The golf clubs beckon to him now,
No longer does he care to plow,
But still he thinks, when comes the fall,
His crops he'll harvest, one and all,
So to that end, when he proceeds,
He finds he has a crop of weeds.

WEST BEVERLY—A recent weekend visitor of the F. A. Jensens, of West 14-mile road, was Mrs. Lenhart Ohm, of Stockholm, Sweden. Daughter of one of Mrs. Jensens's school friends in Stockholm, Mrs. Ohm was enroute to New York after a month's visit in this country. Dr. Mary Jane Jensen, who is now a practicing psychiatrist in Chicago, took a few days off to come home for a visit with her parents while Mrs. Ohm was here.

Sue Souter was accompanied home from the University of Indiana last week by her fiancé, Jerry Lewis, of Indianapolis, who visited here for three days before reporting Saturday at Shreveport, La., for ROTC air force training. Sue and Jerry are planning an August wedding, after which they will both return to Bloomington for their senior year at the university.

On June 8, the Joseph Fortins, of West 14-Mile road, attended a breakfast and reception at the Whittier hotel, celebrating the 50th wedding anniversary of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Cavanaugh, of Detroit. The Cavanaugh's have an impressive total of 30 grandchildren, plus two great-grandchildren in the small persons of the Fortin's sons, Joey and Greg.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Semrow of Devonshire road, returned last week from a 10-day trip which took them to Milwaukee and St. Louis, where they visited relatives and friends, and to Chicago, where they attended the graduation of their son, Elmer, from the University of Wisconsin.

Some of West Beverly's other very young ladies took part in the Barbara McCall Scaver dance reception at Cranbrook auditorium June 4, before an exciting audience of parents and other fond relatives.

Among the dancers were Sally Hodgson, Wendy Paddison, Betty and Joann Lakatos, Deirdre McCarthy and Judy Krempa. Another performer was Jane Jo Souter of Bloomfield Village, whose grandmother, Mrs. George Souter, of Riverside drive, was on hand to applaud.

BIRMINGHAM ALUMNAE OF ALPHA Omicron Pi held a family picnic at the James Sterling home on Pine Lake for members, husbands and children. Among those present for this final meeting of the year Mrs. T. M. Mordaunt (standing), from left, Mrs. Albert Canfield, Mrs. James Bain, Mrs. Henry Nothoff and Mrs. Glenn Sawyer.

they attended the convention of the Aid Association for Lutherans at the Morrison hotel.

To celebrate Rosemary Taormina's graduation from Wayne university, the Philip Taorminas held an open house for 100 friends and relatives at their home on Devonshire road Friday night. Rosemary received her bachelor of science degree in education at commencement exercises held at the university last Thursday.

To wind up their season's activities, Troop 314 Girl Scouts had an "overnight" at Camp Nairn the last of May, then met for a final party a few weeks ago in the home of Mrs. Don Kalmbach, who, with her co-leader, Mrs. Clarence McGee, is in charge of the Troop. Members from West Beverly are Judy Palmer, Marjory Stettbacher,

Ruth Kalmbach and Janet McGee.

June 19 Vows Spoken
At Dun Scotus Church

A pearl studded crown held in place Mary Elizabeth O'Connor's three tiered wedding veil of nylon net for her marriage to Donald Burton Denison. The double ring rites were read at 1 p.m. June 19, at Dun Scotus church.

The bride chose a candlelight-nylon and imported lace gown with the guests were Leo Salbo of Dearborn, Don O. Nafe, Jr., of Ypsilanti and Michael J. O'Connor with trailing ivy.

Mary Elizabeth's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James C. O'Connor of 551 Oakland avenue. The bridegroom is the son of Raymond W. Denison of Plymouth.

MRS. C. WALTER Seery, Jr., was her sister's maid of honor. Eridamaide were Mrs. Ido Caputo of Willow Run, Ann Cassidy of Monroe and Susan O'Connor, sister of the bride.

The attendants were gowned in powder blue shantung taffeta with white organdy accents and carried white carnations with trailing ivy.

Niece and nephew of the groom, Rae Elizabeth and Gene Denison of Westbury, N. Y., were flower girl and ring bearer. Rae was dressed in a full length frock of blue and white organdy.

Acting as best man was Harold Denison of Detroit, while seating

MRS. O'CONNOR wore a blue silk dress with matching stole and an orchid corsage for her daughter's wedding and the afternoon reception at the Birmingham Community House. Out-of-town guests for the occasion included Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Denison, Jr., and T. H. McGranaghan, all of New York City.

Following the reception, the new Mrs. Denison departed in a wild rose shantung tulle suit with white accessories. The couple will return from their wedding trip after July 15.
