NORTH ADAMS—Annual school election in Troy Township is June 14. Are YOU eligible to say how you wish 80% of your tax money to be spent? If you are not registered, remember you have only until tomorrow to do so.

Troy township children had no holiday last Monday and trundled off to school with the "business as usual" attitude. However, hearts were not heavy for this is the final week of the school term. Happy vacations to everyone!

Have you met the Richard W. Flannery of 4251 Beach road in Troy township who has returned to town from Philadelphia, Pa. He has two children: Harriet will be three in June and her brother Michael will be one the same month. Mr. Flannery is a salesman with the Ford Motor Co. Mrs. Flannery is a member of the Junior League.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wardrop entertained at cocktails before the dinner dance at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club on Saturday of last week.

Mrs. William J. Beck of Juniper court and her daughter, Tamara, have a trip to Toronto, Canada.

of Grand Rapids attended Barbara as maid of honor. She wore a waist length gown of aqua nylon net over taffeta, with a matching headpiece and veil. She carried rhubarb lilies. Claudia Berry was bridesmaid wearing a gown identical to the honor attendant's. Sandra and Janet Gallia, nieces of the bride wore flower girls. They wore identical ankle length gowns of yellow nylon net over taffeta. They carried colonial bouquets of pink sweethearts.

Russell C. Gellash, Jr., was best man. Seating the guests were Edward P. Nagle of Detroit, Lt. Glenn Koehn of Pleasant Ridge and Emil Gallia of Lansing.

FOR HER daughter's wedding, Mrs. Johnson wore a mauve chantilly lace gown fashioned with a V in the back. Her accessories were hyacinth blue. Mrs. Gellash wore a blond lace ensemble with light blue accessories. Both mothers had orchid corsages.

For traveling, Barbara donned a slate blue botany suit with navy and white accessories. They are honeymooning in the South. In August, Mrs. Johnson and her husband in Germany where he will be stationed.

Out of town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Clapp, aunt and uncle of the bride from Santa Monica, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lankford of Saginaw and Captain and Mrs. Corey Dymond of Lansing.

as guests of the Girl Guides, to tuck into their trunk of memories. Tamara Beck, Barbara Hall, Connie Ledel and Judy Atken members of Detroit's Girl Scout Troop No. 613 and the Tween-age Council of the Northwest District of Detroit were invited by the Girl Guides of Toronto to be their guests over the weekend of May 21 which is the birth of Queen Victoria and celebrated as a holiday.

Mrs. Beck who is leader of the troop was also invited. They left Friday by train for Toronto. Each girl was a house guest of a Girl Guide while there. Mrs. Beck was the guest of a Girl Guide Captain. Previous to the trip each girl had been corresponding with her future hostess so that every one felt like "old buddies."

The weekend was packed full of "fun excursions" and a time to meet and exchange ideas and customs and accomplishments. On Sunday they all went to church together. The girl Scouts wear uniforms. We know well as the Girl Guides in their quite different outfits. (They wear navy blue uniforms and long black cotton stockings.) On Monday they boarded the train for home, a tired but very happy group of girls.

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Smith of Beach road entertained at cocktails Saturday evening before the dinner dance held at the Orchard Lake Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGowan, Mr. and Mrs. Mare Hagerman, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lossing of Pine Hill subdivision attended the square dance at LaSalette parish in Berkeley last Saturday night a week ago.

Have you met Mr. and Mrs. Duncan D. McGillivray of 2758 Pine Hill drive in Troy township? Mr. McGillivray, who is retired, and his wife moved here from Detroit three weeks ago. Their son, Duncan, who is a navy pilot now in the Reserves, makes his home with them. Mr. McGillivray enjoys knitting and her flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren W. Johnson of Sheppardsh lane and their two youngsters spent the holiday weekend with the senior Johnsons at the cabin on Big Bear Lake. Mr. and Mrs. John D. Atkinson are brand new comers to our neighborhood. They moved last week from Royal Oak to their new home at 2901 Hylane drive in Troy township. Mr. Atkinson's Paris Warehousing and Distribution Manager at General Motors Truck and Coach. Mrs. Atkinson says her husband's only hobby is his work, so much so that he has found no time for other interests. She gives her time to the American Red Cross and is a member of its Motor Corps in Royal Oak. Her grand-children are her other hobby and she is very fortunate for they live in nearby Clawson.

Have you met Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Fredericks? They moved to 2778 Pine Hill drive from Detroit 2 weeks ago. Their son, Robert, will be two in September. Mr. Fredericks is salesman for Gehring and Forsyth. Mrs. Fredericks is interested mostly in getting settled but she has always enjoyed golf and horseback riding.

Two weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Norman K. Barnes moved here from Detroit to 1285 Lennox in Bloomfield township. They have two children, Lucille, 12, and William who is seven. Mr. and Mrs.

Barnes are members of Red Run Golf Club but they have been so busy with moving that golf has been forced into the background. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Waisdorf of Hunt road entertained Sunday at a neighborhood picnic and wienner roast.

Have you met Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Mendelsohn of 2777 Juniper court? They moved here May 14 from Detroit. They have one son, Paul, who is eight years old. Mrs. Mendelsohn is manager of Menajo Restaurant in Detroit. They have no special hobbies but Mrs. Mendelsohn loves to embroider.

Nancy Woodman was hostess to the senior English class of Troy high school, Wednesday evening, May 26, at her home on Wattle road. The class had a surprise supper party for their teacher, Mrs. Dorothy Perry and presented her with a matched necklace and earrings.

MRS. JAMES C. GELLASH

Mr. and Mrs. Gellash To Reside in Germany

Lt. James C. Gellash claimed Barbara Rose Johnson as his bride in a Saturday afternoon ceremony attended by 125 wedding guests. The Rev. Harold C. DeWitt officiated at the 2 o'clock, double ring rites in Kirk-in-the-Hills. A reception followed at Rotunda Inn.

The new Mrs. Gellash is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford M. Johnson of Bradford road. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Gellash of Detroit.

The bride wore a gown of imported chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. The blazon neck-tie and orchids.

A FORMER roommate at Michigan State college, Phyllis Lettinga

For Comfort and Good Appearance Lebow Keeps You "In The Dark"

"Dark color tones are bright fashion this spring and summer," says men's fashion authority Victor Lebow. Like most men's fashion developments in Lebow Clothes, this one makes good sense. White, so impractical, was developed for men who spent all their time in the hot sun; white reflected the sun's rays. But most men spend most time indoors where there are no direct rays to reflect. Dark tones, so much more useful, serve their purpose best by helping to dissipate body heat.

You're invited to see our selection of Lebow suits for spring and summer, featuring Black, Charcoal, Walnut-Brown and Black-Blue. In Italian Coalsilk, pure silk, $120; English Kid Mohair, $95; English Worsteds, $95 to $115.
