OCAWS Sponsors Household Style Show March 22-24

"Omnibus", a showing by leading antique and contemporary dealers, will be at the former S. S. Kregge store, Woodward avenue, March 22-24, under the sponsorship of the Oakland County Animal Welfare society.

Miss Josephine Collins, 1128 Southfield, chairman of the Omnibus, said that, for the first time in Birmingham, some of the finest designs in hand woven fabrics, furniture and household accessories of both the past and present will be shown side by side.

"People, in this way," she said, "may judge for themselves how the products of different eras can be combined in the home, harmoniously. Each dealer we will present is being carefully selected and is outstanding in his field."

COMMITTEE members serving with Miss Collins are Mrs. Martin LaFave, OCAWS president, Mrs. W. G. Ferguson, Mrs. James Q. Goudie, Mrs. A. H. Meyer, Delbert Adams and Edward G. Ball. Mrs. Lewis K. Marshall, Pierce street, is handling publicity.

Mrs. Marshall said tickets would go on sale at Grinnell's on March 14, adding that profits of the show would be used wholly to further the work of the society in Oakland county.

WE HAVE the only paid humane officer in this area," she said, "and feel that Albert Sundell is doing an excellent job.

The work of the shelter on Walton road, in Pontiac, is well known and steadily increasing in its service to the area.
