Vaughan Sixth Graders Entertain with Puppets

The hard work of Mrs. Butterfield's sixth grade was rewarded by the applause of successive audiences on Thursday and Friday of last week. On Thursday the show was given for the parents and repeated for the fourth, fifth and sixth grades on Friday. At the first showing Mr. Johnson, Mrs. MacGirr and Mrs. Flint were special guests.

The puppets were made by the students and dressed to represent such characters as Magellan's crew, Explorers and South American natives. The show was given in four scenes. The stage and scenery were also made by the pupils under Mrs. Butterfield's capable supervision.

In Mrs. Kruse's kindergarten room the children made number charts.

In Mrs. Blazo's first grade they have a fish pond made of colored paper. There are fish attached to the bulletin board hooks. The fish's eyes are cut out. On the other side of the fish there is a word. The children would take the fishing pole and try to get the hook through the eye. If they read the word correctly they would get to keep the fish and then another fish would be made and a different word would be put on the back of the fish.

In Mrs. Beaudoin's room the children are making Easter decorations.

In Mrs. Clouse's room the children did the display case with help of Mrs. Clouse. It has stuffed birds in it with a little story telling about that bird. Mr. Nickel, a man from Cranbrook, is bringing some stuffed birds from Cranbrook to show to the children and also will do some bird trails for them. They are also learning in which ways to identify birds; how to classify birds; their nesting habits; and how to attract birds.

In Mrs. Velkoff's third grade room on their study of Indians they collected quite a number of Indian things. They are Tomahawk heads and arrow heads, Indian dolls, Mohegan, Indian corn, Tom-tom, Miniature tepee, miniature canoe, woveed baskets, pottery, etc. They've also been trying to grow roots on the Pineapple top plant. Puccinwillow, carrot top, sweet potato, avocado, and they also have a cactus plant.

Mrs. Flannery's fourth grade room has been studying a new unit on Dental Health. They are learning the right kind of foods you should eat, and the names of your teeth. They also saw a slide film on how to care for your teeth, and how far down into your gums a

Juniors Sponsor Novel Bake Sale

A novel bake sale conducted by the Birmingham high school junior class will be held Saturday all over town. With orders of 173 pies and 285 cakes, indications point to a $500 profit to fatten the class treasury.

Orders were taken by 84 salesmen last Saturday. Their results were compiled and given to members of the class of 50 who are to do the baking. Delivery will be made by 87 classmen.

Betty Quillian and Mike Garrison, co-chairmen, patterned the bake sale after one held annually at an Indianapolis, Ind. high school. Handling the organization for the junior homerooms are Gordon Pade, Jo Beecher, Ed Peters, Bob Gove, Ann Shenfield, Linda Burch, Rosemary Greiner, Betty Baker, and Margaret Seyferth. Miss Dorothy Allen and Mrs. Hazel Ladd are faculty advisers working with the students.—BILL DOVE.

Plan Clean-up Day For High School

To improve the appearance of Birmingham high school and its campus, the service committees of Pop club and Student Congress plan a clean-up, fix-up, and paint-up day. Chairmen are Jean Flores, Pop club, and Susan Doherty, Congress. The event is eventually scheduled for a Saturday in the near future. In this way Pop club will support Congress in its waste paper campaign.—CINDER KELLY.
