ality reviewed the year and an annual report was made by the PTO board.
Parents were noticeably impressed with the displays of "autodivisional" aids prepared by the kindergarten through the 12th grades.

A great deal of ingenuity, was employed by kindergarten teacher, Mrs. Krause, in the decoration of walls and tables with cut-outs, drawings and letterings by her tiny tots.

Appreciative comments were heard from parents studying Mrs. Oscar Forslund's display, showing how her first grade pupils are taught to add and subtract and to tell time.

Beverly Wheeler's second grade presentation earned praise for the students' illustrated booklets on weather, the seasons, birds and safety.

Illustrated essays on silk, wool and cotton were done by Frances Johnson's third grade pupils. Notable among them was an essay on cotton by Shirley Naughton and a drawing of a sheep by Jimmy St. John on which (to add a touch of realism) he had pasted a piece of wool.

Gwen Moore's fourth grade students exhibited cut-outs and essays on beavers and spiders.

Large scrapbooks on the constellations with colored drawings of the dipper and Leo, the great bear received favorable comment.

Most impressive was the art display which showed both originality and talent. Parents spent considerable time studying the clay figures of dinosaurs and the 3 by 4 foot painting of a cider mill by Llewellyn Reaska.

Present at the opening dance of the Forest Lake Country Club, May 14, were Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand Trombley, Meadow Way, and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Miller of Detroit.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Gould, Monterey Court, and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. E. Norne and Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts of Carey Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Orr entertained their monthly Pinocchio Club at their home on Sheringham road last Saturday evening. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Timm, Highland Park, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Orr, Farmington, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Catlin, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cantrell and Mr. and Mrs. David Moss of Detroit.

Replacement Coming
Before that hot, dry summer weather arrives, a new pump will be installed on the West well, according to Birmingham city commissioners and the fire department. The $1,000 pump discontinued service two weekends ago when it burned out. A new pump already is on order and expected to arrive soon.
