

Church Happenings in the Community This Week

UNDER THE SPONSORSHIP of the Youth Fellowship of Embury Methodist church the filmed story "John Wesley" will be shown at that church at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 11. The Rev. Reginald Becker reported that, currently, the film is being rented only to Methodist churches but stressed that this showing would be open to the public, with a refreshment hour to follow. The film, he said, is in full color, following the entire career of Wesley, the dynamic and colorful evangelist and educator of the 18th century.

Food Collection Due at Franklin

Pointing toward a full harvest season in church, members and friends of Franklin Community church and church school will start bringing canned goods and staple foods to church this Sunday. Displays will be made in the worship areas as the food arrives, reaching their climax on Thanks-giving Sunday, Nov. 21.

All food donated will be taken by church members to the Methodist Home for the Aged in Oklahoma and the commission on education, Mrs. Oliver Greenwood, chairman, and the commission on education, Mrs. Arthur Hayes, chairman.

This year adults who do not have children in the church school are asked to participate as well by leaving food in the container provided in the vestibule of the church.
