The only way to obtain and secure permanent peace is for the nations of the earth to respect, admire and accept. A nation that deviates from decency within or without its borders is helping to start another war among men and women of good will. Evil seldom finds an opportunity to find board and room.

A NEW SILK flag will grace the stage of the Birmingham high school Little Theater, thanks to Piety Hill chapter, DAR. Upon learning that there was no American flag on hand for this spot, Mrs. Dale O. Miller, regent, shown with Ed Peters, Student Congress president, set the wheels in motion to obtain one. The gold-fringed silk banner was presented in a brief ceremony at the school on Veterans Day, Nov. 11.

Drivers Warned Of Winter Peril

Don't wait for icy streets before getting your car ready for winter, Chief of Police Ralph W. Moxley warned all motorists yesterday. He also reminded all drivers that December 15 is "PS-D Day," the date on which it is hoped the public will be so careful that no serious accidents will occur.

"We join President Ike and urge all citizens to cooperate on Safe Driving Day, and show what can be done when everybody cares and tries especially hard. Then we'd like 'em to continue trying 365 days a year," the Chief declared.

"This pleasant fall weather lures lots of people into a sense of false security," he said. "They think it will last forever. But it won't. All motorists know that, yet every year, the first snow finds thousands of them unprepared. It might even occur on 'S-D Day'."

IT'S LOTS EASIER to have brakes, headlights, and other mechanical features of the car checked before the cold weather rush starts, Chief Moxley pointed out. But he added that getting the car ready for winter means more than changing the oil and grease, and putting in anti-freeze.

"It's just as important to check safety factors of vision and traction," he said. "Live rubber windshield wiper blades that don't streak, defrosters in working order, and good headlights are all vital for adequate vision in winter rains, fog, smog, sleet, and snow."

"AND FOR SAFER traction on ice or snow, there's nothing like a good pair of tire chains. National Safety Council tests proved that. And I mean full chains, not those emergency units you strap on for temporary help."

Full chains of the reinforced type are the best bet for safety on either snow or ice, even if you have mud-snow tires on your car, Chief Moxley said.

Too much dependence cannot be placed in some of the so-called winterized tires, he said, particularly on hand-packed snow or ice. Also, he said, the inertia or gyro-type anti-skid devices did not show up at all well in National Safety Council tests.

cashmere:
one way to measure a man

They say that no man has really arrived until he owns a cashmere jacket. We admit there are other standards, but men who arrive in Lebow's Cashmiracle certainly arrive well-dressed. No longer limited to jackets, this miracle in cashmere also makes up into a suit that breathes luxury. The fabric is a true rarity, imported from Scotland. The underdown from a score of Himalayan goats is required to provide yardage for one jacket. Lebow pays due homage to the rare fabric with meticulous hand-tailored soft construction.

Colortones for fall include self-toned, shadow striped suitings, and a whole palette of shades, in appealing patterns, in the jackets. Sport Coats— $95.00 — Slacks $25.00
