Walnut Lake Woman's Club Benefits from Card Party

Mrs. Parker Rockwell and Mrs. John Bell were co-hostesses at a luncheon and bridge party at Mrs. Bell's home on Putnam Drive last Thursday, Nov. 18. Guests were members of the Walnut Lake Woman's Club and their friends.

There were seven tables of card players, who were more than delighted with the prizes of home-made "fruitcake." Winners were Mrs. Harry Rosard, Mrs. James Sweeney, Mrs. Ronald Bruland, Mr. Graham Overgard and Mrs. John Phelps at the bridge tables. Mrs. John Parkins at a table of ginocche players, and Mrs. George Brantley at faro. Proceeds of the party will go into the club's treasury.

In the outstanding production put on by the high school students, the variety show "County Fair," many of the neighborhood girls and boys took active parts.

Carol and Beverly Negri were in the Sisters sequence, and also in the Dream number with Patsy Nyberg. Dawn Karnes appeared in the opening act, Beverly Noch and Sandra Overgard in "Life Upon the Wicked Stage."

Mike Koskinen did an outstanding job of drilling the Civil Air Patrol team, of which Lynn Granger was a member. David Goodwin and Sally Hanson sang in the choir, and performing in the band were Tamara Hadenoch, Anne Rice, Jack Palmer and Pamela Parkins.

SLUMBER PARTY

variety show last Friday evening, a carload of girls accepted Elaine Palmer's invitation to attend a slumber party at her home. Girls who spent the night were Judy Button, Yvonne Mealey, Anne Rice, Sharon Kline, Jenny Naylon, Palditch and Karen Weaver. Elaine is the daughter of the John Palmers, on Milliseth road.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Moore, of South Clunbury road, will celebrate Thanksgiving in their new home by entertaining Moore's family at dinner. Guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Roy Moore, of Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Moore and three boys, Jack, Jim and David, also of Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Wells Rausser, with Wendy and Chris, of Charlotte, and Mrs. Virginia Gibbon and son Philip, of Lansing. With her own three children, Peter, Margo and Mark, the hostess expects a full and merry day.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Maund, of Barramoor road, left today to spend the Thanksgiving weekend in Indianapolis, at the home of Mrs. Maund's sister, Mrs. Paul C. Grimes.

Mrs. Herman Fiebig, of Inkster road, who is general chairman of the annual bazaar put on by Redeemer Lutheran church scheduled for Dec. 1 and 2, spent last Thursday working with a committee from the Women's Society making Christmas wreaths for sale at the bazaar.

Mrs. Herman Pravel, Mrs. Kyle Winemiller and Mrs. Stewart Schultz were among those present. The same group gathered yesterday to fix Thanksgiving baskets to be delivered to the Infirmary at Pontiac.

The Don Clymers, of South Clunbury road, were surprised and pleased to have an unexpected visit from Clymer's mother and uncle, Mrs. Mary Clymer and Elta Schaeffer, both of Findlay, Ohio. The guests spent the weekend of Nov. 12 and 13 here.

Mr. and Mrs. Cass Brovarnes, of Lawdale drive, are entertaining Mrs. Brovarnes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hill, and her sister, Joyce, for the holiday dinner.

GETS A BUCK

Cheers to the winner! Mrs.

Graham Overgard was back in a flash from her hunting expedition, having shot a buck on opening day. The family hunt at the Canada Creek Ranch, near Atlanta, and off to the same spot last weekend sent Overgard and son Jon to try again.

Miss Nellie Sutherland, sister of Mrs. Overgard, is a houseguest of the family this week.

Girl Scout Troop 413, who meet at the home of Mrs. Clayton LaNette, on Lawdale, planted crocus bulbs at their Nov. 15 meeting. The following week the girls started to mow their own lawns, and when they have completed this project they will try their skill on homemade Christmas tree ornaments.

The Kilo Winemillers, of Putnam drive, are exposing the son-Lynn Rice home today from Ball State Teachers college, in Muncie, Ind. Harry is bringing a fellow student, Kay Gibbs, with him, and the boys will stay for the holiday weekend.

NEWCOMERS, HELLO!
Welcome to newcomers Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Hall, of 2095 Langham drive, who moved here from Pittsburgh, Pa. about two months ago. Hall is connected with the Aluminum Company of America. Mrs. Hall enjoys knitting and sewing, while her husband golfs and does some woodworking.

Welcome also to the Kenneth C. Crumb family, who moved to 4800 Ballantyne road in the Brass of Bloomfield from Royal Oak. Crumb is employed in the downtown Detroit office of the Michigan Bell Telephone company. Their two children are Linda Jo, seven years old in December, who is in the first grade of Walnut Lake school, and Sandra Lynn, who was three years old last July.
