Wellington Ward Appointed To Ass'n School Committee

At the Nov. 11 meeting of the Beverly Hills association at the Community House, it was announced that Wellington Ward, of Kirkshire road, has been appointed the association's representative on the school committee of the Southfield Federated Associations.

The report on the Beverly Hills association's fight against Dutch Elm disease indicated considerable success this year. While a 600 per cent increase in tree losses has been recorded in surrounding areas, West Beverly has to date lost only one tree from the disease, two less than last year.

Charles Vogel, association president, emphasized that Beverly Hills association meetings are open to all residents of the area, and are held at the Community House about the middle of each month. Because board members are frequently called out of town on business, it is impossible to set a regular monthly date, but residents who are interested in attending are urged to contact any of the board members for exact details.

The E. J. Racines, and son, Joe, of Sunnyslope drive, returned Nov. 13 from Toronto, where they spent the weekend attending the annual winter fair and horse show. Horse enthusiasts, the three Racines had eyes only for the horse show, which was opened amid much pomp and circumstance and the skilling of bagpipes by Field Marshal Montgomery (competing in the show were teams from West Germany, Spain, Canada and the U. S.).

Twelve-year-old Joe Racine is captain of the Outlands riding stable junior equestrian team this year.

HOSTESS CLUB MEETS
Book hostesses settled down to some serious planning when the West Beverly Hostess Club met Saturday in the home of Mrs. Wayne Lyone, of Hillcrest road.

Object of their attention was the neighborhood cocktail party they will give for all residents of West Beverly on Dec. 4, at the Birmingham Country Club.

At Monday's meeting of the Beverly Hills book group, AAUW, Mrs. E. Emde of Mayfair lane, reviewed White's "The Taft Story"; the group met at the home of Mrs. Mark Cheever, of Hillcrest road.

On Nov. 12, Mrs. Emde gave a luncheon honoring Mrs. Frederick J. Wahl, of Birmingham, who will soon move to Rocky River, Ohio. Among the guests were Mrs. Lionel Wootton, Mrs. Walter G. Patton, Mrs. Thomas E. Husted, Mrs. An-

Gary Glenn Grosius arrived Nov. 15 at St. Joseph's hospital in Pontiac, and has now taken up residence in the home of his parents, Mrs. and Mrs. Frederick C. Grosius, of Devonshire road. An interested spectator in the nursery these days is his big brother, Freddy, two years old.

LEG CONTEST
Adding to the hilarity of Riverside dance club's "Varsity Swing-out" Nov. 13, was an all-male leg contest. Grand prize winners in this event were Chet Guilmet, of Riverside drive, R. D. Detwiler, of Devonshire road and Don Dittich, of Chelsea road.

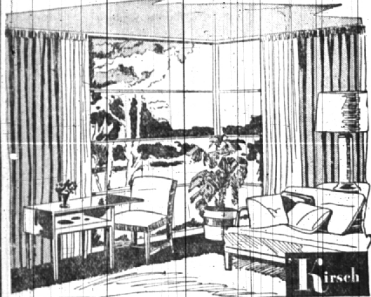

Bud and Dannie Guilmet spent the weekend of Nov. 6 with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hanson, at the Hansons' cabin on the Au Sable river, near Grayling. A business trip prevented F. J. Staroba, of Wentworth road, from attending Dad's Day at DePauw university the weekend of Nov. 6.

Mrs. Staroba went on to Green-castle alone, however, in order to be in the audience when Frank III played a lead role in the university little theatre group's presentation of "State of Affairs".

Birmingham's superintendent of schools, Dr. Ireland, was the "surprise accompanist" for group singing at Beverly school's open house, held Nov. 17. The songs were led by song leader Bill Spence. Well over 800 parents attended the affair; the first one of its kind held at the school. Among the special guests were the presidents of Pierce and Baldwin PTAs and Richard Featherstone, Torrey principal.

DANGER, MAGIC, ADVENTURE and suspense will hold the audience when "Sinbad the Sailor" comes to town at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., under the auspices of the AAUW Children's theater group. Staged by the Children's World theater group, the classic relates the fascinating story of Sinbad, the evil merchant Giafar, Abou Hassen, the mischievous boy, and the Princess who is plunged into spine-tingling events on the Magic Isle of the Genii. Children without season tickets may buy theirs at the box office. Pre-school children will be admitted only if accompanied by an adult.
