MRS. WALTER LUX

Chooses Dior Design Gown of Alencon Lace

Lora Thurston ascended the aisle in a Dior design street-length gown of white Alencon lace over taffeta when she became the bride of Walter Lux. A double-tiered veil of silk illusion fell from her cap of matching lace. She carried a bouquet of roses surrounded by carnations and lilies of the valley.

The Saturday morning rites were read at 11 o'clock in the First Methodist church by the Rev. Harry O. Martin. A breakfast reception followed at the Thurston home.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon H. Thurston of Buckingham road; Walter is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Lux of Milwaukee, Wis.

IRENE Variedson of Highland Park was the bride's only attendant. She was crowned in a violet off-the-shoulder taffeta dress of street length. A tiny matching hat completed her ensemble. She carried a bouquet of yellow carnations and red roses.

Royal Castro of Chicago, Ill., was best man. Seating the guests were Leon H. Thurston, Jr., the bride's brother, and Dante A. Crum of Birmingham.

The bride's mother wore a teal blue silk crepe gown with navy accessories. Her corsage was made up of pink roses.

THE BRIDE ebbed as her going away outfit a grey wool two-piece dress trimmed in black velvet with black accessories. The couple left by car for Chicago where they will make their home.

Art Show Starts At Agency in Hills

Sixth of a series of artistic showings at the MacManis, John and Adams, Inc., annex in Bloomfield Hills has begun, this one featuring four artists' works.

Featured are paintings by Don Silverstein, Harry Borgman, Mildred Vainassi, and Hazel Jacoby, which may be seen by arrangement through Edwin F. Pacult's office. Pacult has arranged the series, in his capacity of art director of the advertising firm's promotion department, to bring art to those unable to make frequent visits to Detroit's art center.

The show includes abstract paintings, still lifes, and one floral painting. It began Monday and will last through Dec. 22.

Hi-Pointer Is Prexy

MT. TOM WORSTEDS

Towering peaks of suit perfection, hand-tailored by Lebow

Mr. Lebow, who has himself been responsible for many of the latter-day changes, points to Carlon Glen Plaids, one of his own contributions to the fall men's suit picture. Imported from Great Britain, Carlon Glen is a muted plaid, comprising rich carbon black and dark gray. The same principle has been applied to dark blue and medium blue (Carlon Blue) and dark brown and medium brown (Carlon Brown).
