

Musical Gifts Will Prove Much Interest

Music-makers, whether they be pianos, organs, drums, trombones or other instruments, are among the most interesting gifts for Christmas.

"Baby, I'd like to play a tune," says the young child who has just received his first piano. Or for a gift to offer the young girl who has just received her first organ. Or for a gift to offer the young boy who has just received his first drum set.

Any instrument, however, may be a gift to a child. It is an expensive gift, but it is a gift that will bring him about ten dollars, or more, in the future.
