Carnival Spirit Grows In Lathrup

LATHRUP—Gay carnival spirit will prevail in Lathrup Village on the evening of November 6th when the Lathrup Woman's Club holds their Country Carnival, which is to be the theme of this year's annual charity party. Dinner will be served to members, their husbands and friends, starting at seven o'clock at the House in the Woods. A post-dinner fortune teller will be on hand to predict the future for those interested.

There will also be a wide selection of games, and flower vendors will circulate among the crowd selling their wares. An unusual attraction will be a picture putting-up for golfing enthusiasts. The latest in dance steps will be demonstrated by two professionals.

MRS. ALBERT Melton and Mrs. Herd's English are co-hosts.

For this season and are being assisted by the following committees: Mrs. Henry Wright, Mrs. Robert McMillan, Mr. J. Lee Fisher, William H. Cox, Mrs. T. A. Gibbs, Mrs. David Anderson, Mrs. D. Ellis Kresdel, Mrs. Henry Gray, Mrs. Frank Book, Mrs. Alvin Pluntee, Mrs. Fred Watson and Mrs. Norman Johnson.

Monday, November 1st found members of the Lathrup Woman's Club at the House in the Woods for their monthly business meeting. Miss Lou Balcock of the International Institute was the speaker for the afternoon.

THE TEA CHAIRMAN for the meeting was Mrs. S. L. Flournoy and assisting her were Mrs. Clayton Ewert, Mrs. Charles Bullock, Mrs. Cecil Haugh and Mrs. Johnnie Mahan. Pouring at the tea table were Mrs. Robert Webber and Mrs. Herd's English. The new recording secretary and Mrs. Henry N. Kelly will be publicity chairman.

PTA's to Hold Series of Coffee Hours, Open Houses

Open houses will be the order of the day next Monday at the Jane Addams, Parker and Upton PTA meetings. At Jane Addams, parents will be asked to occupy their children's seats and hear the teachers describe the texts and program for the year.

At Parker, each teacher will post a list of books appropriate for Christmas giving to her pupils. There will also be discussions of these books.

At Upton parents will visit the classroom and ask questions about the year's work. The executive board and dance committee members have tickets for the "White Party" to be held at the Upton school Dec. 2 for sale. Miss Will will be presiding by the Dierkes-Blohm orchestra.

Upton is continuing the series of coffee hours for enable teachers and mothers to become better acquainted. Wednesday, Mrs. Donald Cederholm, Mrs. Elizabeth Strubing were hostesses for Mrs. Catherine Hardland's third grade group.

Thursday at 1:30 Mrs. Harold Claffey and Mrs. George Harman greeted for the mothers of Mrs. Vera Carter's first grade. Friday will find Elizabeth Castiglione meeting the mothers of her fourth grade pupils at the coffee hour arranged by Mrs. Andrew Mitchell and Mrs. John Meyer.

Next Wednesday Mrs. Joseph Bassett and Mrs. Richard Brown will arrange the coffee for Elizabeth Smith's afternoon kindergarten group.

Margaret Mueller, first grade teacher, will meet with her mother next Friday. Mrs. Daniel Sloan and Mrs. Harry Friseman serve a room mothers for this group.

Mrs. Luke Bourantean and her new daughter, Maribeth, were eagerly welcomed by her sons, Raymond, twelve years old and Joseph, seven, when they arrived at their home in Normandy road Sunday. Maribeth was born Oct. 27 at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Pontiac. The boys attend O'Shea of the Little Flower school in Royal Oak.

Jimmy Horton celebrated his fifth birthday last Wednesday at a traditional ice cream and birthday cake party in the recreation room of his home on Edinwood. The ten little guests and his brother Bobby tried out his new boxing gloves after a few games.
