Mrs. Roy Brampton Entertains As Daughter Comes for Visit

Mrs. Roy T. Brampton has invited about 100 guests to her Lone Pine road home in Bloomfield Hills tomorrow afternoon, to meet her son's fiancée and to renew acquaintance with her daughter, just arrived from the West.

Guests will be hearing details of Mrs. Mary Mabon Bowman's life in Albuquerque, N. Mex. where her husband, Col. W. W. Bowman, is commanding officer of the 34th Air division. Mrs. Bowman who arrived by plane Tuesday to spend two weeks with her parents, the Roy Bramptons, has indulged her interest in modeling in the recent Air Base Style show at which the photograph was taken.

Entertaining for the capable young housewife—she's just 24—occasionally includes hosting the general's husband brings home for dinner.

THE TEA IS ALSO honoring Louise Kinsman, whose troth with Thomas R. Brampton has been announced. She is the daughter of

NEWCOMERS WELCOME

A month ago Mr. and Mrs. Frederic F. Frick and their two-year-old son Frederic, and their daughter, Country Club lane in Grosse Pointe Woods to their new home at 3521 Padmington, and last week Mrs. Fraick came home with David Craig, who was born September 23. Frick is with General Motors and Die corporation.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Ernst are now at home at 4364 Orchard Hill drive. They moved here from Royal Oak the first of September. "Vicky," their little girl, is four years old and "Dege" their baby son is six months.

Mrs. Ernst finds pleasure in her work in ceramics and art. Her husband, who is a manufacturer's representative for the Terryberg company and the Colliat and Coon company, is interested in sports.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Riechling Jr. of Butternut Hill drive surprised their neighbors the Robert S. Johnsons with a farewell party Monday evening. The invited guests had cocktails at the Riechling home and then went on to the Rotunda Inn for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have purchased a home in Grand Blanc so that Mr. Johnson would be nearer his work. He is with General Motors and was transferred to Flint this summer.

Mrs. Norman Terry of Dover court entertained 25 guests at tea Saturday, Oct. 2. Her guest of honor was Mrs. Carl Hall of Mt. Dora, Fla., who was visiting in Michigan. Mrs. Hall, a former Detroit, has many friends here.

BRIDGE-LUNCHEON

Mrs. Lon King entertained at a bridge luncheon at her home in the Abbey terraces on Wednesday, Sept. 29. The occasion was to honor Mrs. Ray Hayes, a newcomer to Birmingham. Mr. and Mrs. Hayes came from Santa Monica, Calif. and are now making their home on Safford road. Mrs. King's guest list included her guest of honor and Mrs. John Greenhalgh, Mrs. Frank Gibboney, Mrs. William Scherer, Mrs. Philip Cartwright, Mrs. Robert Anders and Mrs. Kenneth Sanden.

Just prior to her return to Hollywood, Fla., Mrs. Alvin O. Baker was honor guest at a luncheon given by Mrs. William W. Busch of Square Lake road. The guests enjoyed bridge during the afternoon.

Residents of this area attended St. Hugo's membership tea which was given at the home of Mrs. Albert K. Bergel on Hickory Grove road. Entertainment was by Jane Sanderson, who presented a humorous monologue.

Joseph M. Franks returned Friday to his home in Peterborough, Ont., after being the guest of his brother William J. Franks and Mrs. Franks of Beach road.

Mr. and Mrs. Franks were weekend guests of the Willis B. Sargeants of Lansing.

Mrs. William Arlund of Square Lake road entertained eight guests for dinner recently. The party was a surprise to honor her husband's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Holding of 1074 Rouge Circle moved to their new home from Outer Drive in Detroit. They and their 18-year-old son, Ronald, have been in their new home three weeks. Holding is a engineer with General Motors.

The James M. Smiths of Beach road and the Henry Crampton of Pleasant Ridge drove to Ann Arbor to attend the Michigan Army game. Following that, they re-

NOTES FROM THE VINEYARD

While the MICE* were at play the CAT was engaged in making a few observations at Martha's Vineyard.

Since this is written from the Vineyard, let's talk about GRAPES. Don't do any pruning until winter. That's that. (We will tell you more about this a bit later.)

Now, you have heard about CAROL and EDNA, the two big winds from the South. At this island the most damage was caused by the high water swept in by the wind. We were particularly interested in the remarkable recovery of lawns which had been covered 3 to 9 feet deep with good old sea water.

The laws are composed primarily of KENTUCKY BLUE GRASS, BENT and some FESCUE. The lawns which showed the most improvement are the ones which had already had their FALL FEEDING. This should be a good tip for you.

The homes here are beautiful and range from tiny two-room houses with pink shutters to mansions of many rooms—white clapboard with black shutters. An interesting detail of these homes is the varied use of flat stones (like our PATIO BLOCKS) for terraces, walks and stepping stones. They give a quaintness and graciousness to the setting of the home that is pleasing indeed.

We could go on and on with the things that pleased us. However, there are a few local problems we feel should be brought to your attention.

1. Plant PEONY ROOTS now. We have a few magnificent reds on hand.
2. Water evergreens thoroughly. DO NOT water bulbs.
3. Take up DAHLIAS. Dig them—don't pull them. They don't grow with a broken neck.
4. Cure GLADIOLUS CORMS in shallow flats for two or three weeks before storing. Then dust with NEUDUST and store in cold place above freezing.
5. Start planting of DAFFODILS and TULIPS this month. (Be sure to try the small rock garden varieties such as KAUFMANIANNIA, LUSIANA and PRAESTENS FUSILIER.)
6. Don't cover bulbs until the ground freezes.
7. VERMICULITE is one of the best materials for storing bulbs of all kinds.
8. After reading all this we are convinced that the MICE did a better job.
