Wiesler chose a dress of sand tie. Her hat was of charcoal velvet with matching champagne. Upon their return, the couple will reside in Detroit.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Johnson of San Marcos, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith of Sandusky, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wenger of Lakewood, Ohio; and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Douglas of New York City.

Waters-Dasher

White chrysanthemums and gladioli decked the altar of the First Methodist church Saturday for the 3 o'clock wedding of Jo Ann Dasher and Jack Wardell Waters. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Dasher of Ridgeland, and the late Mr. Waters.

The bride was married in a princess style gown of white tulle with alenon lace bodice, chapel length train and white tulle mitts. Her three tiered illusion veil was secured by a matching lace Juliet cap. Jo carried a bouquet of white fall mums with white and green ivy.

Wearing rose tulle, Mrs. Benjamin Snyder (Peggy Gould) of Grand Rapids was the honor attendant. She carried pink carnations and ivy and wore ivy leaves in her hair.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. John Bull (Mary Flowers), Virginia O'Brien and Nancy Pearce of Dayton, Ohio. All wore dresses identical to the matron of honor's. Court House, Ohio, and Mrs. Harry Pearce and Nancy of Dayton.

John R. Bull was best man, with Dr. Frederick Jeffers, Thomas R. Bramson and Charles F. Stinson of Detroit as ushers.

Silver, candelabra and white mums and gladioli centered the bridal table at Rotunda Inn for the reception. Mrs. Dasher received her guests in a royal blue tulle gown, beaded hat and pink corsage. A pink hat and white corsage completed the late blue costume worn by Mrs. Waters.

The newweds will live in Birmingham following a honeymoon to Montreal and Quebec.

Weekend guests of the Dasher's were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lamun of Jeffersonville, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Korn of Washington, D.C., and Mrs. Harry Pearce and Nancy of Dayton.

Van Boven-Snyder

Carolyn Dant Snyder wore her mother's wedding gown of candlelight satin for her wedding Saturday to Peter John Van Boven, Jr. The Rev. Perry Williams officiated at 8:30 p.m. in Christ Church Cranbrook. A reception followed at Bloomfield Hills Country club.

The bride gown was fashioned with princess lines, long sleeves and a yoke of illusion topped the bodice of seed pearls. A cathedral length veil of illusion covered the train of the gown and was held in place by a Juliet cap of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

MR. VAN BOVEN was his son's best man. Seating the guests were Arthur Henric of Philadelphia, Frederick Philster of Kenilworth, Ill., Harry Miles and Roy Nelson of Chicago, and Mrs. Van Boven and her sister, Mrs. Louis Hamper of Greenville, Murray Dodge and James O'Brien.

Mrs. Snyder greeted her guests in a yellow tulle gown with a draped neckline. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and all the attendants wore quiet caps of satin trimmed with tiny bows, to match their gowns.

ballerina skirt, cap sleeves and a draped neckline. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and all the attendants wore quiet caps of satin trimmed with tiny bows, to match their gowns.

Gentry-Beuthien

The First Methodist church was the scene of the double ring ceremony uniting Nancy Lee Beuthien and Castelle Garland Gentry, Jr., in marriage on Friday, Dr. Harry Martin officiated at the candlelight rites at 8 p.m.

Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Angus Beuthien of Yorkshire road, Cass' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Castle G. Gentry of Howell, Mich.

The bride chose a waltz length gown of white nylon net with a gathered bodice and a long sleeved bolero of chantilly lace. The full skirt was highlighted by a wide band of chantilly lace which encircled the skirt forming a "V" at the back of the gown. Her fingertip illusion veil was caught by a seed pearl tiara. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with a corsage of white roses.

MRS. DONALD McBRIDE of Lake City, Mich., was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a waltz length peacock blue gown of antique shantung with ice blue accents. Her bouquet consisted of pink carnations and ivy centered with roses.

Judith Webber of Detroit and Marlene Lundgren of Dearborn, were bridesmaids. Their gowns were identical to the one worn by the matron of honor. They carried pink carnations with ivy streamers and all attendants wore headpieces of pink carnations with rosebuds.

James Gentry of Howell served as his brother's best man. Seating the guests were Carl Beuthien, of East Lansing, brother of the bride, and Ned Jones of Ann Arbor.

FOR HER daughter's wedding, Mrs. Beuthien chose a midnight blue waltz gown of nylon tulle over tulle, a fuchsia colored velvet hat and matching blue accessories.

Her corsage was of rubrum lilies.

Mrs. Gentry wore a waltz length gown of rose beige lace over tulle with velvet hat and black accessories. She chose pale pink roses for her corsage.

The young couple greeted their friends at a reception held in the church parlors. The new Mrs. Gentry carried a charcoal wool suit with try chose accessories for traveling. They are honeymooning in North Carolina and upon their return will reside in East Lansing.

Manley-Burnett

Flower girl Barbara Jo Burnett preceded her sister Joan during the Saturday afternoon for the double ring rites uniting Joan and Milton A. Manley, Jr., at St. James Episcopal church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Dean Burnett of Buckingham road. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Milton A. Manley of Brookwood court, Bloomfield Hills.

For her wedding, Joan chose a floor length gown of chantilly type hand clipped lace, nylon tulle and satin. The bodice was fashioned of the hand lace, while panels of galon lace were set in the skirt. Her fingertip veil of french illusion was held in place by a chantilly lace cap and she carried white tea roses in a cornucopia shape, centered with a white orchid.

JOYCE PIXLEY assisted Joan as maid of honor, with Margie Thayer, Adele Huebner and Mrs. David Manley as bridesmaids. Their gowns were of handkerchief point nylon net over tulle. Veilwoven bodices and jackets topped the ballier length skirts. The attendants wore bands of matching veilwoven in their hair and carried white carnations interwoven with net and satin ribbon of the blue.

Best man was the groom's brother, David Manley of Boston, Mass. Ushers were James McNamara, Glenn Freid, Jr., Tony Bruner and Jack Heaton.

Mrs. Burnett chose a cocktail length dress of beige and white with beige and bronze accessories and an orchid corsage. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Manley wore a costume of stone blue pique de soie, with darker blue accessories and a corsage of orchids.

For their honeymoon, the newlyweds will fly to Europe for a month visiting Paris, Switzerland, Italy and Lisbon. Upon their return, they will reside in Birmingham.

For traveling, the bride donned a charcoal grey silk linen dress with matching jacket and white collar and cuffs. A charcoal coat with red lining and red velvet trim completed her outfit.

MRS. MILTON A. MANLEY, JR.

Allen-Hammett

Gowned in Italian silk tulle, Dorothy Jeanne Hammett became the bride of George LaFont Allen at 4:30 p.m., Saturday, in St. Andrew's Episcopal church. The Rev. Henry O. Yoder presented the couple for marriage and the Rev. Walter Brandt officiated at the rites.

Neckline of the bride's dress was bordered with Italian lace. She wore an all-ivory, beaded gown with a full skirt, beaded train and a full skirt. Her bouquet consisted of a fan, which she purchased in Seville, Spain, centered with white orchid and surrounded with stephanotis.

The new Mrs. Allen is the daughter of Professor and Mrs. Ralph W. Hammett of Ann Arbor. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Norval Allen of East Lansing.

Honor Attendants, maid and matron, respectively, were Eleanor Hammett, sister of the bride, and Mr. Bart Spivey of Toledo, Ohio. Flower girl was Joan Thomas of Ann Arbor.

The three new long gowns of pale green antique satin and carried full bouquets of tropical leaves centered with fig mums.

Acting as bridesmaids were Mrs. Thad Stanford and Mrs. Harold Harper, both of Ann Arbor, and Gay Houston of Cincinnati, Ohio. They wore dresses identical to the
