EIGHT WHEEL CHAIRS for the Oakland County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children will be purchased with the $161 check pictured as it changes hands from the Birmingham Rotary club to the Oakland County group. The cash donation was added after Birmingham Rotarians had presented the Society with a station wagon, adding machine and typewriter earlier this year. Pictured above, from left to right, are Mrs. Fred H. Rollins, Jr., Oakland County chapter's second vice-president and president of the Birmingham Rotary; Matthew Cammareri, chairman of Birmingham Rotary's Crippled Children committee; Lloyd C. Megee, president, Oakland County Crippled Children's Society; and Art Blakeslee, Rotary president here. Next project for the local club will be building a garage to house the station wagon at the Pontiac home. (Eccentric Photo)

Article Features City Architects

O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach, Birmingham architects, were featured in the August issue of Progressive Architecture, with floor plans, exterior and interior views and written data on the International Institute of Metropolitan Detroit, located at John R and Kirby streets.
The article states that, since the architects wanted to have the building as light in appearance as possible, the exterior walls were constructed of aluminum sash, clear glass windows, and obscure blue glass panels.

The Institute is a social center for foreign-derivative groups who settle in the Detroit area.
