

Pine Lake Area Gets School Bus

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—A delegation of 35 persons from the Pine Lake area demanded that the board of education put on an additional school bus to lessen the daily loads described as "most crowded."

The delegation's wish was granted and the board instructed Supt. Eugene L. Johnson to secure an additional bus. Possibly a ninth bus will be put on later should the need warrant, it was disclosed.

Supt. Johnson had originally requested eight buses, but he was only able to hire seven under the $20,000 budget.

Board Authorizes Grading Program On Village Roads

FRANKLIN—The village's roads at least will be graded before winter sets in, board members decided Monday night.

After hearing a discussion on responsibilities for roads within the village limits by Donald Cruise of the state highway department and Raymond Jenks of the Oakland county road commission, trustees voted to hire the county road crew to grade needed streets in the village at the $5.21 per hour charge submitted by the commission.

The board appointed Member Win C. Hinman as road administrator.

Cruise outlined procedure necessary to enable the village to share in the state's motor vehicle fund returns and added that the village's major and minor street map would be forwarded to the state commission soon for certification.

"YOU SHOULD receive your first payment from the vehicle fund from the year's third quarter collections currently being made and payable to the village shortly after November 1," Cruise stated.

"Unfortunately, the formula in the motor vehicle act of 1951 is based on a dollar that has been greatly inflated," Cruise continued. "Because of this, you are not going to have nearly enough money for your roads."

Jenks was on hand to comment on possible repair programs for village streets and advised the board that he could grade all streets in the village in three or four days.

After discussing the advisability of grading oiled roads, board members agreed to go ahead on a program to grade all those streets that needed repair and will ask the county road commission to defer collection of the charges until the village has received third quarter motor vehicle fund returns.

Choose Jail Terms Instead of Paying Fines of $60 Each

BLOOMFIELD—Three minors decided to serve 10-day jail sentences on charges of possession of alcoholic beverages rather than pay fines amounting to $60 each imposed by Judge Charles Long in township justice court Monday.

Fined $60 each were Joseph Brewer, 17, of Auburn Heights; Robert Faust, 17, of Poplar Bluff, Mo.; and Melvin Faust, 17, of Pontiac.

A fourth lad, Robert Faust, 17, of Pontiac, paid a $15 fine and $10 costs and was released.

The boys—along with a 16-year-old Pontiac juvenile who was released in lieu of $100—were arrested Sunday about 1:30 a.m. on Square Lake road near East Ways road, Police Chief Clark Green said.

New School Site Depends Upon Water Source

SOUTHFIELD—The board of education Monday night postponed negotiations started a year ago with four Detroit subdivision developers for the purchase of a 10-acre school site at the southeast corner of Nine Mile and Carleton. The agreed price is $15,000.

The board also discussed plans for another bond issue possibly in January, to finance additional schools.

The site is the northernmost corner of a proposed 117-acre subdivision bordered by Shawnee and Nine Mile, east of Beech road, where developers plan to start construction as early as the spring of 1955, provided they are reasonably assured that they will be able to get water there.

ABSENCE of a water source has caused the long delay.

School board members seem to believe they'd have no trouble getting the water main extended from Evergreen once they had deed to the property.

The Detroit developers, represented by Anthony Maillou, agreed to sell the board the site for $15,000 as soon as the property's needs and bounds are determined.

Meanwhile, about 3 miles east of the proposed subdivision, the board has purchased another school site with 185 feet fronting on Nine Mile. It is comprised of 5 1/2 acres located on the outside in the middle of the 19,000 block Woodward. Should the case go to court it will be the first step of the new ordinance.

For a building permit, the new ordinance, the city commission Tuesday night decided a building permit to demolish Building 500, a two-story apartment building at the southeast corner of Hickory Grove and Woodward, because the new ordinance no longer permits multi-dwelling dwellings on Woodward.

THE DETROIT company's building plans received on June 29 (date of the public hearing for the proposed zone changes) were turned down on the basis of improper sewage disposal deemed unsatisfactory by the county health authority when the city council on the matter at the time.

Those in the Southfield school district will pay $2.56 per thousand. The rate last year was $2.47.

Supervisor William Roemer explained that growth of the township area and increased demands for services made the increased rate necessary.

Denial of Permit Seen as Threat to New Ordinance

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—City commissioners agreed Tuesday night the city probably will face its first law suit arising out of the new zoning ordinance enacted August 10, which changed to single residences the former multi-dwelling areas along Woodward.

Should the case go to court it will be the first step of the new ordinance.

For a building permit, the new ordinance, the city commission Tuesday night decided a building permit to demolish Building 500, a two-story apartment building at the southeast corner of Hickory Grove and Woodward, because the new ordinance no longer permits multi-dwelling dwellings on Woodward.
