1st St. Columban Festival Slated For October 2-3

Advisory committee for the first annual fall festival at St. Columban Catholic church has announced that square dancing will be a feature of the first night of the two-day affair, October 2 and 3.

The dance will be held in the open with the section of the street facing the church roped off to provide room for dancing. A three-piece orchestra will be provided and Joseph French, general chairman for the event, will be caller.

A feature to attract the kiddies, along with their parents, will be the performance of Milky, the television clown, who will give two magic shows on October 3. Milky is actually, Clare Cummings, of 1455 Ruffner. He will be driven in costume to the church grounds in a midsize fire wagon.

THERE WILL be a host of dolls for sale, all being dressed by the women of the parish. There will be pies, cakes and other baked goods and a number of booths with handicrafts and other novelties. A special midway for kiddies is being built with rides and games.

Rev. Thomas M. Kenny, pastor of the newly formed parish, has a fundraising affair. It is an opportunity for members of the parish to join with their neighbors and friends of all faiths from surrounding areas and get acquainted.

"We certainly hope we have good crowds to take advantage of the work and time of so many members of St. Columban's in their efforts to produce a truly enjoyable, relaxing festive event," Rev. Kenny added.

The church site is located just north of Fourteen Mile road and Melton, east of Woodward avenue.

Plan Rally Day At First Baptist

Rally Day in conjunction with Christian Education Week will be observed by the First Baptist church on Sept. 26. The entire church school will meet as one large corporate body in the sanctuary at 9:45 a.m. for a special program.

The 11 a.m. worship service will be conducted by the Rev. F. Robert Wilkie with Louis G. Crooks, chairman of the board of deacons, assisting. At this service, the church school staff and teachers will make their public dedication to the task of Christian education.
