

Seeking Missing Member of Cast For St. Dunstan

With the opening curtain only eight days away members of St. Dunstan's Guild are scrambling to locate one of the leading characters of their play, "My Three Angels," who disappeared under strange and suspicious circumstances.

This unsavory character's name is Adolph, and he, even now, may be slithering around in your garden, for Adolph is a snake.

Anyone lucky enough to have seen Walter Slezak in the play last year on Broadway or at Detroit, will remember that Adolph holds the key to the whole plot, and unless he can be found, that loathsome character, Henri Trachard, played by Frederic Graef, will never meet his demise and the whole plot will fall apart.

SEVERAL members of the cast are likely suspects for the mysterious disappearance of Adolph. Graef is one, since he, obviously, would not relish a fatal encounter with Adolph for four performances, Oct. 8 and 9, and the following Friday and Saturday, Oct. 15 and 16.

Virginia Heideman and Patty Rice, who have the mother and daughter roles, are the other two likely suspects, for, ever since Eve, females have been frightened by snakes. The two strongly objected, from the very beginning, to Adolph's presence in the cast.

THERE is the possibility that Adolph may have put himself beyond the reach of the most avid snake hunters by taking to his hibernation early. However, should any esteemed readers have a clue as to his whereabouts, please get in touch with either Mrs. John Warner, who is directing the play, or Mrs. Otis Thompson, who is in charge of production.

Those desiring to see the final outcome, may obtain tickets at Grinnells or by contacting Mrs. Mair Lind.

Palmer-Smith Date Is in November

A November wedding is planned by Jeanie McKay Palmer and Dean Arnold Smith, whose father is Charles MacCabe Smith, of Brookside.

Miss Palmer, whose engagement has been announced by her mother, Mrs. Lee Spencer Palmer, of University place in Detroit, has chosen Christ church in Grosse Pointe as scene of her wedding. Her father is the late Mr. Palmer.

Her fiancé is the son of Mrs. Arnold Smith, of Huntington Woods, and Mr. Smith. He is a graduate of Michigan State college and she of Miss Newman's School and also attended Michigan State college.

ENGAGEMENT of Betty J. Perkins, 519 Hanna street, to Russell R. Blaisus, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Seaver Perkins of West Branch. Russell's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blaisus, 1257 Davis. No immediate wedding plans have been made.

Cranbrook Music Guild Opening 1954-55 Season

Opening its third season on Oct. 6, the Cranbrook Music Guild will present the Berkshire Quartet, distinguished string ensemble, now in residence at Indiana University. Summer headquarters for the group is at Music Mountain, Falls Village, Conn., where they give a ten-week series of concerts.

The group has appeared in New York at concerts of the People's Symphony society and the New Friends of Music. Other appearances have been at the Library of Congress, Washington; Green Mountain Festival, Berkshire Music Center at Tanglewood and the South Mountain Festival, Pittsfield, Mass.

LeRoy W. Dahlberg, president, said Mrs. Walker A. Williams is head of the committee choosing the season's artists. She is being assisted by Dr. William Lloyd Kemp, Mrs. Walter A. Skinner, Mark J. Wessels, Dr. Maurice Gar-abrant, S. V. Norton and Mrs. Arthur B. Tilton.

ALL CONCERTS are held at Cranbrook House, the current concert scheduled for 8:30 p.m.

As at all others, Mrs. Martin Archangel and her hospitality committee, Mrs. E. A. Proctor, Mary Buick, Mrs. Robert P. Nevins, Mr. Walter T. Bromley and Mrs. William J. Bird, will hold a coffee hour following the concert.

Among the charter members and newcomers to the Guild, planning to attend the opening concert are Mrs. Elin Saarinen, the W. T. Gossett, F. G. Weeds, R. Jamison Williams, R. H. Meaus, O. A. Luckenbachs, E. M. Beresford, F. E. Booths, L. G. Vandeviers, Marshall Fredericks, J. W. Blanchard, Uri B. Grannis, and Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Spademan.

Red Cross Says More Are Needed As Social Aides

The recently formed Social Welfare Aide course offered by the American Red Cross now has 38 registrations, according to Mrs. George W. McCormick, of Birmingham, chairman of social welfare aides, and Harold Brady, chairman of home service and administrative assistant to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

The course will begin Oct. 6, at the Red Cross chapter house on Franklin Blvd. Registration is still open and may be completed by calling the chapter house in Pontiac or the South Oakland branch in Royal Oak.

Plans for the course include orientation of the opening day by Mrs. Paul Brock of Bloomfield Hills. Other speakers will be Mrs. Ruth E. Spurbick, director of home service program, Dwight S. Adams, director of the Pontiac United Fund, and Ora Hineley, director of Social Aid.

OTHER SPEAKERS will be Hubert Earl, intake supervisor for the Oakland county department of social welfare, Oriel Endleman, executive secretary for Michigan Children's Aid society, Mary Parish, director of social service for Pontiac state hospital, and Mrs. in Disaster.

Louise Dickey, case worker for the Salvation Army.

For the third session on Oct. 20 Brady will speak on techniques of interview, functions of casework and specifically, Red Cross in communication with the armed forces.

Mrs. Mildred Bennett, executive secretary of the Oakland County Chapter of Red Cross will speak on the role of volunteers in the Welfare and Information Centers
