

North Adams Welcomes Eight New Families as Neighbors.

Residents of the North Adams area continue to have the opportunity to play good neighbor to recently arrived residents, most of whom have moved there from nearby towns, including Farmington, Birmingham, Oak Park and Pontiac.

Welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hooper of 16197 Beechmere road, formerly of Oak Park. Hooper is sales representative for Chicago Printed String company. The family includes three children, Margaret, 7, Betty, 5, both of whom attend Baldwin school, and Janet, 3.

Have you met Mr. and Mrs. Fred Trickey of Orchard Hill drive? The Trickeys formerly lived in the Northwest section of Detroit. They have three children, Fred, 6, who attends Pembroke school, Dick, 4, and Dennis, who is three.

Also newcomers to this area are Mr. and Mrs. Franklin A. Mills of 1012 Greenview road, formerly of Franklin Mills in the engineering division of Chrysler corporation in Highland Park. Mrs. Mills' hobbies include painting ceramics and collecting antiques and cut glass.

FROM FARMINGTON

Newcomers Mr. and Mrs. Richard O. Dintaman of Sunny Hill court, who have just moved into their new home, formerly lived in Farmington.

Dintaman is associate manager of the Pontiac office of Western Southern Life Insurance company and enjoys working with Boy Scouts in his spare time.

The Dintamans have three children, Denise, 10, and David, 6, who attend Vaughan school, and Dale, 2.

Welcome to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Wells, Jr. of Derby road. Mr. Wells, originally from Birmingham, is the former Gretchen Trees. He is assistant cashier at National Bank of Detroit.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wells are graduates of De Pauw university and Mrs. Wells is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

The Wells have two children, John, 4, and Mark, who is one.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Cahn of Westwood drive, are former Franklinites. Cahn is managing director of Automotive Tool & Die Manufacturers association. The Cahns' main hobby is golf. They have a daughter, Cynthia, 7, who attends Detroit Country Day school.

More newcomers to this area are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Tipton of 2202 East Derby road, formerly of Oak Park. Tipton is a sales engineer with Taylor Fibre company. The Tiptons have two children, Jean, 6, who attends Pembroke school, and Billy, 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Brown of Charing Cross road have recently moved into their new home from Stanley street in Birmingham. Brown is a manufacturer's representative and enjoys fishing. Jetta, the Brown's Labrador Retriever, is an important member of the family.

CUB SCOUTS

Cub Scout Den 2, Pack B-8 now has a membership of 11, reports John C. Wright, Jr., of Evansdale road with three new Bob Cats, Ray Embury, Allan McManus and David Wright. Larry Gilley has also joined as a Cub Scout.

At the last meeting Bob Cummins received his lion badge, which is the highest rating, and Britt Jackson and Paul Mendelsohn received their wolf badges. Johnny Hopcock won a gold arrow point.

In the past few weeks the Cub Scouts have visited a taxidermist, The Cranbrook Institute of Science and the Fire department and have worked on a bird house project. At their last meeting the Cubs made Indians out of brown hard-boiled eggs. Mrs. Wright plans to take all the boys bowling next week.

Due to spring vacation there will be no League of Women Voters unit meetings held in this area in April. The chairman, Mrs. Robert Slacy of Pine Hill drive urges local members to attend the annual LWV meeting at the Community House in Birmingham on April 18 at 10:30 a.m.

Boy Scout Troop B-25 of this area is currently collecting old newspapers and magazines for an annual spring paper drive. The final collection date is May 14, and residents are asked to be on the lookout for the Pine Hill Patrol.

There are many types of leaders; some are quiet, yet persuasive; some are vigorous in their opinions; some are bombastic and make lots of noise. Yet you have to choose leaders to guide and inspire you in your efforts to reach Utopia.

French Accent Poses Problem For Englishman

By ALICE E. MORGAN

The desire for near-perfection sometimes throws members of the Village Players into odd situations. Such a case has arisen in their forthcoming production of "Sabrina Fair."

Charles N. Blunt, cast as a Frenchman, has more than a touch of a smooth British accent. He found himself having trouble keeping his real and pretend pronunciation separated.

Being a perfectionist, Blunt didn't like the way he was sounding and decided to do something about it.

He went to the French consul in Detroit and asked that gentlemen read his lines with the proper French accent, and record them on tape for Blunt's own study.

The CONSUL would be delighted—but was leaving shortly for Washington, D.C., and would not be able to oblige. However, he knew a French family who might be willing to help.

Blunt set out for Grosse Pointe and found the family more than willing to make the recording for him. Now, he is learning both lines and accent by listening to the recording in just about every spare minute.

The Players' production is not, according to reports, like the movie of the same name, but follows the book and original play. Scheduled to open at 9 p.m., April 20, the show is slated for four nights' performance on two successive weekends.

"SABRINA FAIR," is a comedy based on the story of a chauffeur's daughter, as written by Sam Taylor. The setting is Long Island.

Madeline Tillston, assisted by Peg Reid is directing the show, the cast being headed by Pat Dix and Dr. Jack Hassberger.

Others on stage are Mrs. Hortense Adams, Mrs. Harriet Fox, Walter Skinner, Steve Mahand, Bud Crichton, Peggy McCall, Barbara Ogleable, Doug Brown, Earl Wilson, Penny Kleene and Ruth Richardson.

Exhibit Antiques

Four area dealers are listed among those who will show wares at the annual three-day Pontiac antique show opening April 19 at All Saints Episcopal church. Listed are the Ruth Haigh shop, Quality House antiques, Mary Thornton antiques and Bowman's Cupboard.

Society deadline is 3 p.m. each Tuesday.

ENJOYING DAILY RIDES over mountain and desert country at Rancho de los Caballeros, Wickenburg, Ariz., are Mr. and Mrs. Neil D. Ely of Bloomfield court, pictured during their recent vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Ely have just returned from Los Caballeros where they joined Mr. and Mrs. Walter Probst and children, Sharon and Gary, of Grosse Pointe and the L. S. Racines of Oak Park, Ill. The Elys took in all the activities of ranch life—breakfast cookout trips by horseback, rodeos, and square dancing, as well as poolside lunches and just soaking up the warm Arizona sunshine.
