Residents Urged to Protest Turnpike by Lansing March

All residents of Wing Lake, Foxcroft and surrounding areas are urged by Senator Broomefield to join the "March on Lansing" April 21 to be held on the floor of the state senate at 7:00 p.m.

Neighbors in this area are organizing car pools for the trip and buses have been chartered for those who prefer them.

Senator Broomefield has announced that all civic-minded residents, affected or not affected by the proposed toll road route, should attend, presenting a united front in protest.

In an effort to abolish the turnpike authority, the senate highway committee will hear testimony from a number of experts in highway planning on the feasibility of toll roads versus free limited-access highways.

The state senate gallery accommodates an audience of more than 1,000, and Senator Broomefield says that a full audience at this session will mean a lot toward success in the anti-toll road fight.

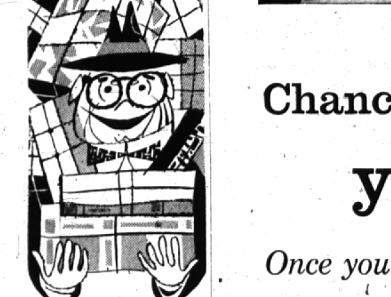

PLANT TREE
Members of Wing Lake WNFGA met Monday morning at 10 o'clock to plant a white pine donated to the club by Michigan State college in commemoration of its centennial year. The tree was planted on the island at the junction of Wing Lake and Thurber roads.

Mrs. Ralph Darling, president, read a dedication letter from the college. At her home near the planting spot, Mrs. Ray Pfeiffer played the musical score of Joyce Kilmer's poem, "Trees" on her Hammond organ, as background accompaniment, while Mrs. Charles Robinson recited the verse. Twenty members were present, along with several neighborhood children.

The annual Wing Lake school fair got off to a fine start last Thursday morning when a committee meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Cornelius Van Halteran, Crabtree road.

Jan Van Halteran and Betty Tweltmeyer are co-chairmen, assisted by 16 enthusiastic mothers. Among attractions of this year's fair will be a "children's White Elephant" booth. For this, the committee will accept donations of all kinds of toys outgrown but in good condition. These should be taken to Wing Lake school.

Mrs. Louise Phillippi, Clarendon road, flew to Chicago Easter Sunday to spend a couple of days with Mrs. John W. Webster who lives in suburban La Grange. The Websters were former Vinetta parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Falberg, Lantern lane, were guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Falberg of Birmingham for Easter dinner.

The Albert Ludwigs of Sheringham are the parents of a son born April 7. He was named William John. The Ludwigs have three daughters, Susan, 5, Mary, 4, and Anne, 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nicholson, Sandy Lane, and their sons, Toby, 6, and Bob, 9, spent the first week-end of April at Niagara Falls. It was a quick trip but a thrilling one for the boys.

WING LAKE WNFGA
The Wing Lake branch of the WNFGA held its April meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Graupner on Dakota Circle.

Having returned from a two-month vacation in California, Mrs. Ralph Darling, president, conducted the business meeting. The club will furnish seeds and some members will assist the children of Wing Lake school in planting them around the school grounds. This decision followed a suggestion of Mrs. Forsland, principal.

It was also moved to set aside a fund for civic improvement of lake front property.

Assistant hostess, Mrs. Geo. Koehn, poured at a table adorned with spring flowers.

Hostesses were Mrs. R. C. Woodhouse and Mrs. F. M. Lawrence. Centering the tea table was a spring arrangement of yellow tulips, white snapdragons and iris.

with eight friends and relatives. Following birthday cake and ice cream, the children were entertained with an outdoor Easter-egg hunt and movie cartoons.

Last weekend, Mr. and Mrs. John Finnegan, Crabtree road and their children, Mardi and Chris, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Franches of Kenilworth, a north shore suburb of Chicago.

Back from a week's trip to Washington, D.C., are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fuller, Worthington road, and their children, Jim, Bill, and Joanne. En route they stopped overnight in Alliance, Ohio, visiting relatives, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Blair of Mt. Union.

During their stay in Washington they visited all the historical and government buildings. The gardens at Mt. Vernon were in beautiful bloom, alive with phlox, tulips and daffodils, they reported, and the cherry blossoms in the capital were in full bloom, too.

Last Sunday evening the William B. Eversons, Sheringham, entertained 20 guests at dinner. The party was in honor of Dr. and Mrs. George Stevens of Washington, D.C., who are visiting Mrs. Stevens' parents, Detroit. Mrs. Everson was formerly Diane Dodge.

Following dinner the group played picture charades.

PTO MEETING
By popular demand, Dr. George Barahal, psychiatrist at Wayne university, will be the speaker at the Wing Lake school PTO meeting on April 20.

Coffee hour will begin at 8:00 a.m., followed by the business meeting at 8:30 when there will be an election of next year's officers. Dr. Barahal will speak at 8:45 p.m., devoting a large part of his time to answering questions submitted by the audience.

Mrs. Ralph Darling of Sunningdale recently entertained the grandmothers' club, a group formed four years ago, at a luncheon in her home.

Mrs. Darling used spring flowers for her centerpiece and made individual place cards in keeping with the idea behind the group. In a styrofoam base, on which appeared the name of the grandmother, Mrs. Darling placed a twig. On the twig she attached tags bearing the names of the guests' grandchildren, to represent a family tree. For grandmothers expecting new grandchildren, the tag bore question marks.

During the afternoon the guests played scrabble and sewed. The members of the club are: Mrs. Allan MacLean, Mrs. Thomas Kenny, Mrs. William Hudson, Mrs. Ed. Horrocks, Mrs. Edwin Huson, Mrs. Thomas Reedy, all from Rosedale Park and Mrs. Joseph Johnson of Wing Lake.
