Thousands Throng Anniversary Fete

Birmingham and Bloomfield members of the Detroit Athletic club, as well as members of Detroit and Grosse Pointe, are still reminiscing about the club's huge anniversary celebration of last Sunday, and about the history of its 40 brilliant years.

Sunday's Open House and tea dance, and following anniversary dinner, were the grand culmination of a nine-day celebration inaugurated on April 3 with the Fathers-Daughters Party. It continued with the April 11 special anniversary boat show, right up to the 17th, the actual anniversary day.

Beautiful fragrant blooms transferred the clubhouse. Roses were everywhere—all urns at the main lobby entrance held long-stemmed American Beauty red roses, and similar roses were used throughout the lounges and corridors.

THE GRAND staircase was spring itself with flowering dogwood branches and Woodwardia ferns spilling from conical wall pockets clipped to the railings. Long-stemmed red roses glowed on the half-way landing.

DAC's officers and directors and their wives came early and welcomed the stream of arriving members and their families. More than 2,000 attended this family fete.

Birmingham members of the club's board are Peter J. Monaghan, secretary; John S. Monaghan, president; Don E. Ahrens, secretary; John S. Monaghan and John Smith, both of Bloomfield Hills, are two of the directors.

In the lobby stood the seven-tiered birthday cake, its top surrounded with fragrant fresh violets. The cake, with a height of 10 feet to its top decoration, was created by DAC's head party chef, Marcel Ritter.

Piled high on tables at different places were 3,000 souvenir boxes, in ruby red, containing slices of the anniversary cake.

Spun-glass decorations in ruby-hue and ruby-colored candles were a gesture to the fortieth anniversary.

J. King Harness, DAC's president, officiated at a brief cake-cutting ceremony at 5 o'clock.

WHILE old and new friends visited, a merry throng was dancing in the Pontchartrain room to the music of Leo Reisman's orchestra. Here Woodwardia ferns banded the bandstand and yuccas held red roses and white snapdragons.

Groups joined around the buffet tables in different parts of the club and toasted the "40th" in champagne or tea.

The anniversary dinner following the Open House took place in the main, ladies' and big private dining rooms. A capacity crowd of 500 had made advance reservations for this section of the party. White-clothed tables presented a charming sight with their center arrangements of red and pink roses.

AMONG members from the Birmingham-Bloomfield area at the Open House and following dinner were Mrs. M. M. Burgess and her group including daughter, Nancy Burgess, and her fiancé, Dr. Thomas Jorgensen, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Mackey and their son Jim.

In another party were the Ast Sherwoods, of Southfield Township, the J. W. Abrights of Birmingham, the A. B. McWoods of Bloomfield Hills, the J. P. O'Brien, Jr. of Ferndale, and the Walter Fishers, of Brighton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ari M. BeGole were together with the Howard E. Stegalls, the George H. Carrys, the Henry Woolfendens and Dr. and Mrs. Luther R. Leader.

The William F. Rogers joined with the Harold W. Scotts and John E. Hearsts, of Grosse Pointe, and Mr. and Mrs. George Schwarz, of Livonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Taggart, of Birmingham, and Dr. and Mrs. Louis P. Tomasko, of Bloomfield Hills, were together—Mr. and Mrs. Taggart had timed their return from a ten-day trip to Williamsburg and Hot Springs, Va., so they could attend the "40th" anniversary party.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McWhorter and their daughter, Virginia, and George K. Wood were together.

Others noted at the party were the John W. Fleischers, the John E. Echenrodes, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mantell, Jr., the Donovan J. Grays, the Edward A. Warnicks, the Peter E. Glossops and the W. Roy Akitts.

Society deadline is 3 p.m. each Tuesday.
