Newcomers from East, West Coasts Move to Graefield

Newcomers from opposite coasts—New York and Washington—are among the families who have moved into the Graefield apartments recently.

Formerly of Washington state Mr. and Mrs. Homer B. Fletcher with their children, six-year-old Diane and five-year-old Richard, have moved to 1759 Graefield road.

Fletcher is an economist for the Ford Motor company tractor and implement division. Both Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher attended Washington State college and Fletcher is also an alumnus of Vanderbilt University, and a fraternity member of Washington State Phi Sigma Kappa.

Fletcher is a golf enthusiast and enjoys hunting and fishing. Mrs. Fletcher is interested in art work and her hobby is knitting.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson are busy getting settled in their new home at 719 Graefield court. Robertson, an accountant for Fisher Body, enjoys golf and all outdoor sports.

Mrs. Robertson is an alumna of the National Park college seminary association. The Robertsons' daughter, Jane, is secretary to the Episcopal minister in Dehance, Ohio.

Col. and Mrs. Charles D. Austin, formerly of Plainview, N. Y., have just moved into their new apartment home at 1988 Graefield road. Their children are three-year-old Charles D. Jr., and two-year-old Dallas Adele.

Col. Austin, an Inspector General for the United States army, attended West Point, and is a member of Columbia University's Delta Kappa Epsilon. At present the Austins' main interests are raising their family and traveling.

HOME SERVICE

The Graefield unit of the Oakland County extension service met April 19 at the home of Mrs. Daniel Gallagher to consider (1) The 1955-56 Home Demonstration program offered by Oakland County; (2) special program plans for the Graefield unit; and (3) organization of two Home Demonstration groups in Graefield. The program was organized by Mrs. Walter J. McCarthy who is temporary chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Van Dusen recently entertained Mrs. Van Dusen's mother, Mrs. Kenneth Perkins of Reading, Pa. Mrs. Perkins was here for Easter weekend.

The Walter J. McCarthy's recent weekend houseguest was Mrs. McCarthy's brother, Howard Ross, who is studying naval architecture at the University of Michigan.

Houseguest at the home of the J. C. Edwards this week is Mrs. Edwards' grandmother, Mrs. Zora McGrew of LaGrange, Ill. Mrs. McGrew is returning to her home after a southern vacation in Florida.

McMechan Writes 3rd Jr. League Juvenile Script

For the third consecutive year Birmingham's Junior League Players are preparing their annual spring play to be presented in area schools, April 23-May 5. It is also the third script prepared by Jervis McMechan, exclusively for the Players.

"The Foxy Foxes" has three performances scheduled for Ferndale schools and two in Pontiac. The "big day" of the season will be April 30 when three performances are staged at the Birmingham Community House for local youngsters. Shows will be given at 11 a.m., 1:30 and 3 p.m.

Additional programs are being presented at the Oakland county children's home at Pontiac and the convalescent home in Farmington.
