

Imogene Prowrie Wed Saturday in Wisconsin

A motor trip to Virginia followed the wedding ceremony Saturday which united in marriage Imogene Powrie and Edward George Schley. The Rev. Victor E. H. Bolle officiated at the 2 o'clock rites in the Church of the Holy Innocents, Nashotah, Wis.

Imogene, of Milwaukee, Wis., is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Emmett Powrie, formerly of Birmingham. Her husband's parents are the P. G. Schleys of Milwaukee.

Given in marriage by Harry B. Stillman of Berwyn avenue, she wore a bridal gown of white nylon tulle and chantilly lace. The basque bodice was fashioned with a seep neckline appliqued with dainty lace flowers. Lace accented the floor length bouffant skirt at the hipline. Her fingertip length veil of imported silk illusion was caught to a matching lace crown and she carried gardenias centered with hyacinths.

Descending the aisle before the bride was Mrs. Donald Buzard, matron of honor. Mary Jean Stillman and Nancy Beck, as bridesmaids, and Lynn Mangold, flower girl.

of the matron and maids were styled with a portrait neckline and drop shoulders forming a V in the back. The elongated waistlines flared to points at the hipline and skirts fell to a cocktail length. In their hair were crowns of hyacinth blossoms and they carried nosegays of spring flowers.

The little flower girl was in a white organdy frock with a head-dress of white hyacinths and carried a miniature nosegay.

Robert Schley was his brother's best man. Seating the guests were Robert Mangold of Nashotah, Wis., and John Shane of Danville, Ill., brothers-in-law of the groom.

Mrs. Schley chose a silk henn suit of Dior blue and a yellow flower trimmed hat. She had an orchid pinned to her ensemble.

Following the reception in the Women's club of Wisconsin, the bride donned a navy blue suit with a box jacket for traveling. After a southern honeymoon they will reside in Milwaukee.

COMMUTER'S WIFE Talents, Hearts Are Honored As Mother Reigns During May

BY HELEN BRUNSON
Special Writer for The Birmingham Eccentric

May is the month of mothers, and awards will be given to the Outstanding Mother of the Year.

As in other years, the mother who receives them will well deserve them. For the women so honored are truly outstanding—possessed of unusual talents and great hearts. They are proud of their children and of their status as mothers.

But there is another mother, the counterpart of millions throughout the country, who should be honored this month of May. She may live on your street or mine, for she is everywhere.

She is young, probably around 30, and already has a family of four or more children.

HER JOB is being a mother, and she devotes all her time to it. Her house is not neat, it's clean underneath, but it may be scattered with toys from front to back. Nor is her yard fit showplace. It's filled with swings, slides and children.

Wages she and her brood come out of the house on a Sunday morning en route to religious services.

On weekdays her little ones may appear in as many as three clean outfits of clothes per day—all of which she washes and irons herself.

SHE ISN'T poor, not in these prosperous times, but she has to stretch the money she has to work with, so she makes many of the children's clothes herself and, some of her own.

She cooks a big meal three times a day and bakes quite a bit.

WHEN SHE PUTS on her outfit of inexpensive clothes on a Sunday morning, she appears as neat and smart as any other woman her age.

Yes, this young lady has demonstrated her faith in the future of our country by having a family, and devoting herself to taking care of it. And she does a good job.

She's the "Unsung Mother of the Year."
