BOY SCOUTS

Troop T-1 Will Hold Birdhouse Auction Saturday

TROY—Birdhouses built by boy scouts of Troop T-1 will be on display at the Troy firehall, Liverpool near Square Lake road Saturday afternoon.

Prizes will be awarded for the best houses built by each patrol and also for the best of the entire troop.

Patrols participating are: Beaver, advised by John Lindquist; Eagle, whose advisor is Roy Beach; and Owl, Bernard Nykanen, advisor.

JUDGING, by Charles Paen, Jack Muir and Wilfred Schultz, begins at 2 p.m.

After the judging and awarding of prizes, bird houses will be auctioned and each house purchased will be installed on a house owned by the boy who built the house. Proceeds will go into the troop treasury.

Cub Pack B-8 Home Interests Display

Special home interests of Pack B-8 Cub Scouts will be on display at the May 3 meeting at Adams School. Cubs and parents are asked to be at the meeting by 7:15 p.m.

Chairman James Cummins and Judge Leon Jackson and William Woranop will pick the winners of first and second place ribbons. Some of the items will display their current den projects.

Hold Panel Meeting

Mrs. Ruth Silbar, historian for the Birmingham Eccentric, will present ideas for a monthly club program at a round-table gathering in the Birmingham high school Tuesday night.

CHARLES F. MOORE JR.

Hills Resident Promoted by Ford Motor

Election of Charles F. Moore, Jr., as vice president—public relations Ford Motor Company during which time he served on the White House staff as a special consultant to President Eisenhower.

MOORE was graduated from Dartmouth College in 1925. Since then, he held executive jobs on newspapers and magazines. He was a reporter for the Boston Herald-Traveler and later was director of promotion for National Business, a position he also held on the Washington Post and the Boston Globe.

Prior to joining Ford, Moore was a partner in Earl Newson and company, New York public relations firm. From 1946 to 1948, he was executive assistant to Robert F. Bradford, then governor of Massachusetts.

He was born March 5, 1903, in Beverly, Mass. He is married, the father of four children and resides on Lahser Road, Bloomfield Hills.

We Heard It Said By:

JACK ANDREWS, Birmingham businessman: "This community has grown remarkably in the past few years and, in my opinion, The Eccentric has done an excellent job in keeping pace. It has been hard and will be hard for some time to come. I feel, though, that quite possibly this paper may easily become the best weekly paper in the country. It's done, right now!"
