Cocktail and Dinner Party Held Under Star-lit Sky

An informal cocktail and dinner party took place at the W. A. Shaver home on Oakland drive, Sunday, August 7, the guests dining out on the Shavers' screened-in porch, in the cool breezes.

There are many trees on the property and the Shavers have put a glass roof over their porch so it makes a pretty sight to look up through the trees and see the star-lit sky.

Guests who gathered for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Skinner, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. J. Vinson Birch, Vinton Birch and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Pease.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Sheely, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Williams, Mildred Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Paul N. Averill, Mrs. E. E. Elter, Mrs. Ann Spanton, Arlison Shaver and Mrs. Shaver's sister, Miss Jane Warner.
Garden flowers formed the centerpiece for the buffet table.

There was a house full of excitement at the Charles J. Van Horn home on Oakland drive Wednesday, August 10. Their sons, Peter, 12, and Charles, 6, were returning home after spending six weeks at Camp Ojibway, Siren, Wis.

Wendell Moores Return From Mexican Vacation

WALNUT LAKE—Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Moore, of South Clunbury road, enjoyed a lush Mexican vacation as guests of the Dodge Motor division of the Chrysler corporation.

Together with another Birmingham couple, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Pitt, and two Grosse Pointe couples, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Letscher, they served as hosts and hostesses to a large group of prize winners in a recent contest held for Dodge dealers all over the country.

Arriving at Mexico City a day before the contest winners, the Moores were met at the plane with flowers, and found their hotel rooms decorated with huge bouquets throughout their stay.

Sightseeing, shopping, trips to the University of Mexico, the Halls of Montezuma, viewing the famous Diego Rivera murals, the floating gardens of Zochimilco and the bull-fights were interspersed with parties for the group throughout their stay.

They also saw the Shrine of but the weather very hot in Acapulco. They were surprised to find hotels so large and modern, and the suites so luxurious.

Upon their return home, Mrs. Moore left again for a trip north to Mustang to pick up Peter, Mark, and go and Mark, who were happily vacationing with their grandparents.

A gift which should always be sent promptly

Thoughtless delay in saying "Thank You" via a bread-and-butter gift cannot but mar somewhat the feeling when it is received.

Of all gifts, perhaps the "We-had-a grand-time-at-your-cottage" gift is the one most successful when it is spontaneously dispatched upon your return.

If you are too busy to come in, just lift your phone and call us Midwest 4-3030. We'll select and send it for you, and we have suitable small gifts bound to be gratefully received.

Henry C. Halls Attend Convention at Mackinac

Preceding their vacation, the Henry C. Halls, of Langham drive, attended the Michigan Society of Architects convention held at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island.

The Halls met old and new friends and enjoyed a delightful round of convention entertainment. They resort seeing the John W. Collins, of Birmingham, and the Howard Gould, of Comfort drive, at the convention. Following their stay on the island, they drove to the Sault Ste. Marie, to attend the Centennial Exposition which is being celebrated there this summer.

A number of residents of this area were at the picnic given for the Saturday Club members and friends last week at Camp Dearborn. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Gauss, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Guarniere, with daughter Joan and guests Donna Radem and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Gruber, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Bunnell, with daughter Barbara and guest Monte Ferrelle, were among the early birds, arriving in time to cook breakfast at the park. Later in the day, the Ray Michaels arrived with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Woodward and young Eric Woodward. This group took time to have a swim before joining a group in cooking their picnic supper.

Other Birmingham couples at the gathering were the Don Henricks with the young Henricks, and the Ray Michaels, with their family.

STORK SHOWER
A stork shower brought old friends together again at the Mackinac court home of Mrs. Richard Goodwin on August 2, honoring Mrs. George Fenstermacher, of Royal Oak.
Guests were Mrs. Fred Stewart, of Birmingham, Mrs. LeRoy Fredricks and Mrs. John Bachman, of Cambridge Village, Mrs. James Pemberton and Mrs. John Cordean, of Oak Park.
Others were Mrs. John Johnston, Mrs. Jack Stickney, Mrs. Donald Brown and Mrs. E. Berwick of Royal Oak, and Mrs. John Manoski of Ferndale.
After catching up on recent happenings in the different households, and opening gifts for the expected new arrival, the gathering settled down to an evening of bridge.

The Vincent Alains, of Inkster road, drove with daughter Marjorie and son Jimmy to Chassell, Mich., in the Copper Country, to visit with Mrs. Alains' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Lehto, and leave Jimmy there for a two-week vacation with his grandparents. During his last trip, niece of the Alains, spent her vacation here visiting the Alains upon their return.

The Ben Badenochs, of South Clunbury road, have returned from journeying in the east and in California. Daughters Donna and Tamara also spent a portion of their summer at camp. The family looks forward to a stay in some Canadian resort before school reopens.

WELCOME NEIGHBORS
Welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor, of West Dartmouth road, who moved last week into their just-completed farm-style home in Bloomfield Park. The family includes Robert and John, who will enter Birmingham High school next month.
Taylor is connected with the Detroit Diesel Engine division of
