Don Weyand, 16 year old golfer out of Birmingham Country club, gave way to his older brother Paul, 17, in the USGA National Junior golf tournament being played at Lafayette, Ind.

Don was hooked on the bond with a puff ball during a practice round Tuesday and was forced to withdraw from the tournament.

THE ENTRY was not serious but he stayed in the Purdue University infirmary overnight for observation.

Meanwhile the call went out for the first Michigan alternate, which was his brother Paul.

THE OLDER brother left Wednesday to take part in the tournament.

Four From RO Hurt As Car Overturns

TROY Four Royal Oak residents were injured Sunday when their car struck another at Hartland and Talbot and overturned in a ditch, according to Police Chief David Graboff.

Treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital were Charles Hask, 34, the car's driver, for leg lacerations; his wife, Margaret, 32, for multiple cuts and bruises; and their child, Leroy, 11, for leg lacerations and bruises; and Raymond Tipton, 18, hip lacerations.

The other driver, Evan W. Moran, 36, of 3210 Troy Street, Troy, said he saw the Hask car approach and stopped but the Royal Oak car could not avoid his auto, police were told.

Teeing Off

by Sally Sharp

The 55th Women's Western Amateur Championship at Olympia Fields, Illinois, really proved a full week of excitement. There were top amateurs from all over the United States competing for top honors as the water hazards on 12 of the holes meant placing your tee shots in a perfect position.

The big championship flight had 12 pairs and a playoff for the first position was for Mrs. Welf Smith and Carol Diringer were tied for first place honors with 75 even par.

ALTHOUGH the heat was broken 95 and 105, the week-long match play battle still continued. Windy was downed in the third round by 15-year-old Ann Quast of Washington.

In the finals Pat Lesner's sensational five under par 58 beat Carol Diringer to become the new title holder.

BEING my first big out of state tournament it was really a thrill to see such top golfers. All the girls were tops not only in their golfing ability but in friendliness and personality. The biggest thrill was meeting Louise Salks and enjoying her many talks on different golfing experiences.

By the way the papers gave no mention of any of the other flights and I won't be just my luck to win the first flight.

WENDELL SMITH of the Franklin Hills team finds polo to be his first love in recreation. Here he puts his horse after a match at the Ivory Polo field on Eight Mile road and Lahser.

Franklin's Wendell Smith A Longtime Polo Player

Wendell Smith, veteran captain of the Franklin Hills team, just loves to play polo.

He likes to win, of course, but he doesn't let losing spoil his fun. Playing the game is the matter of primary importance to him.

Smith, who lives at 26580 Carol in Franklin, is the only member of the club who resides in the community which the team represents. Franklin Hills plays regularly in the Wednesday evening indoor polo doubleheader at the Ivory Polo Grounds and occasionally in the Sunday afternoon matches.

A POLO enthusiast of long standing, Smith organized the Franklin Hills team back in 1928. His teammates were George Benjamin of Lansing and Tom Young of Saginaw. They made the name of Saginaw Hills familiar to polo fans all over the Midwest.

Smith and I took up riding together in the twenties," recalls Smith. "I knew he was not only an excellent polo player, but a good organizer of the team. I looked Tom up in Saginaw, and he and I, along with George, a mutual friend, soon joined us."
